Indictment for murder. Fulton superior court, May term, 1913. Verdict of guilty, July term, 1913. Whereupon, on motion, ordered and adjudged by the court that the defendant, Leo M. Frank, be taken from prison for this case to the common hall of the county of Fulton, and that he be there safely kept until his final execution in the manner fixed by law.
As further ordered and adjudged by the court that on the tenth day of October, 1913, the defendant, Leo M. Frank, shall be executed by the sheriff of Fulton county in private, witnessed only by the executing officer, a sufficient guard, the relatives of such defendant, and such clergyman and friends as he may desire; such execution to take place in the common hall of Fulton county, Georgia, on the tenth day of that day, between the hours of 10 o'clock a. m. and 2 o'clock p. m., by the sheriff of Fulton county, hanged by the neck until he shall be dead, and may God have mercy on his soul.
In open court this twenty-sixth day of August, 1913.
J. HUGH M. DORSEY, Circuit Court, Presiding.
L. S. ROAN, Judge Stone Mountain Circuit, Presiding.

The trial of Leo M. Frank for the murder of Mary Phagan is at an end. It is complete. With the sentencing of the convicted man to death, Tuesday morning, the last word has been written on the final chapter of the trial.

A sequel will be written, however, in the higher courts. To those courts, and against the motion filed for a new trial of their client, the attorneys for Frank will carry their fight to set aside the verdict and its exposure of the murderer, has been released from the tower and has gone his way.

New Lee, the negro whose discovery of the body of Mary Phagan led to the trial, confessed accessory in concealing the murder of Mary Phagan. He has been sentenced to life in prison, and his term will be three years in state prison. The amended motion will be heard on Monday, and probably will consider the bill against the negro next week.

Some time soon, but perhaps not for a couple of weeks, the attorneys for Frank will file an amended motion for a new trial of their client, substituting that for the motion which they filed in court Tuesday morning. The amended motion will be heard on Monday, and will set forth in detail after detail every ground upon which the lawyers will seek to have their client tried again.

WILL NOT BE TRIED OCTOBER 10.
October 4 has been set by Judge Roan as the date upon which arguments for and against the motion against a new trial of their client, Leo M. Frank, will be heard. It is the motion which will be heard. If the motion is granted, that act itself will involve the cancellation of the sentence. If the motion is not granted, the final decision of the supreme court will be known on or before next March. The supreme court either will overrule Judge Roan's decision and order a new trial, or will affirm that decision and order a new trial, or will affirm that decision and order a new trial, or will affirm that decision and order a new trial.

In a card published elsewhere in The Journal today, the attorneys for Frank characterize his trial as a farce and assert that the temper of the public mind invaded the court room.

Solicitor Dorsey, representing the state, has no public comment to make except that he feels sorry for Frank's wife and mother.

Looking Judge L. S. Roan squarely in the eye just a few seconds before the death sentence was passed upon him, Leo M. Frank, convicted of the murder of Mary Phagan, said:

"Your Honor, I say now as I have always said, I am innocent. Further than this my case is in the hands of my counsel." The formally required scarcely five minutes, and the young factory superintendent went through the ordeal as unflinchingly as he passed through the twenty-nine days of his trial.

He listened to the damning testimony of the state's witnesses in the trial, he listened to the judge pass the death sentence. The authorities had kept the hour of the convening of the court for the purpose of sending Judge Roan, however, went to his chambers at the criminal court building on the fourth floor of the Throver building shortly after 9 o'clock Tuesday morning. Shortly after 10 o'clock, Attorneys Robert H. Arnold, Lawrence H. Houser and Herbert Haas arrived and Judge Roan was informally notified that a motion for a new trial would be made. After a short conference Deputy Sheriff Philip Minor was instructed to bring Frank from the tower.

At 12 o'clock he arrived, accompanied by Deputies John Owens, George Broadnax and T. A. Burdette, and several friends. Frank greeted his attorneys cheerfully and declared that he was in the best of health. Frank arose and stood near the attorney's table, which was set up in the court room. He was dressed in a dark suit and his hands were clasped behind his back. He looked Judge Roan squarely in the eye. EXHIBITED NO EMOTION. Frank then stood near the attorney's table, which was set up in the court room. He was dressed in a dark suit and his hands were clasped behind his back. He looked Judge Roan squarely in the eye. Will Atlanta Fans Stand Idle and See Birmingham Take Attendance Honors?

THAW LAWYERS STOP HIS PRESS CAMPAIGN AND DENY INTERVIEWS

Jerome Believes He's in for a Long Fight to Lock Reifer Behind Asylum Doors Once More

The dominant race in the Southern baseball clubs are concerned, is already settled. Atlanta is far ahead of Birmingham in this respect. The Atlanta fans are already settling in for the fight between the two cities for the right to see their own team play in the big ball game of the year. Atlanta is to finish ahead in the percentage column is causing the Birmingham fans to muster their full strength in an effort to beat out the Atlanta club. Atlanta is to finish ahead in the percentage column is causing the Birmingham fans to muster their full strength in an effort to beat out the Atlanta club.

Each club finishes the season at home. Atlanta has eleven more days upon which to play games and the attendance on these remaining eleven days will go to show which of the two clubs will be the best baseball team in the league. Atlanta, on the other hand, has been right around the top since the firing of the first gun, and it appears that the Barons will be the Atlanta club should be in the lead.

Atlanta has 200,000 fans in 1907 holds the league attendance mark, and this season there is a good chance of improving upon this. The "crackers" play at home eleven more days, during which time fifteen games are to be played. With an average of 2,500 fans, the trick can be turned, but to do this one must hold back, training his neighbor will attend and aid in making for his position with reference to the Dign-Carnegie case in California.

MANN OBJECTS AND PROBE OF SPEER'S CASE IS POSTPONED

Gentleman From Illinois Succeeds in Getting Consideration by Judicial Committee Put Off for a Day

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—Formal consideration of the charges against Federal Judge Emory Speer by the judicial committee were delayed for twenty-four hours today owing to the fact that Minority Leader Mann, of Illinois, objected to the unanimous consent of a resolution directing the committee to proceed with its inquiry.

When Mann voiced his objection, the committee on rules will report a resolution which will be considered and passed. This action will have been taken this afternoon by the rules committee, which is the desire of Chairman Clayton to afford the minority leader ample opportunity in which to reconsider his objection.

Mann contended that the procedure contemplated by the resolution was irregular and that the house should be kept fully informed concerning the character of the charges against Speer before taking formal action on which an impeachment proceeding may be based.

Secrets of Frank Jury Will Never Be Known to Public, Jurors Declare the Truth

Foreman Winburn and Others Tell of the Troubles and Complexities of a Juror's Life—Public Sentiment Did Not Influence Them

What occurred behind the closed doors of the jury room during the four months and seven minutes the twelve "good men and true" were deliberating on the fate of Leo M. Frank, whom they found guilty of murdering Mary Phagan, will never be known to the public, unless one of the dozen violates a solemn oath, immediately after the session and chosen a spokesman in the section of their room Monday and before they walked out long argument and persuasion to reach an agreement.

The twelve are more or less inclined to reticence on the trial. They are tired of it, they say, and want to get on with their lives. They are tired of it, they say, and want to get on with their lives. They are tired of it, they say, and want to get on with their lives.

WILSON POSTPONES READING MESSAGE UNTIL WEDNESDAY

Message From Mexico This Morning Asks President to Delay Twenty-Four Hours, Conference Follows

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26.—President Wilson will not deliver his message on Mexico to congress today. That event has been deferred at the request of Foreign Minister Gombou, of Mexico, Grand Lee, special envoy of the president to Mexico, to give consideration to some further suggestions of Mr. Lind. The president, of course, complied, and while it was expected that he would deliver the message tomorrow, the language in which this was done left the inference that the president now hopes he will not have to deliver the message at all.

What ground there may be that hope was not revealed at the White House. The president contented himself with having Secretary Tumulty make the simple announcement that the message had been deferred, but without detailed explanation as to what he expected might happen.

The White House frowned with newspaper men and members of the senate and house. The members of the press especially were insistent that the message be given out for publication at once. The president, however, was to be the big story of the day, this presentation of the Mexican case to congress by the president in person. The people would expect to read it in full and time was getting short. Secretary Tumulty, who had been waiting for the message to be given out, but he had not yet received it.

NEWT LEE LEAVES TOWER, STARTS SEARCH FOR JOB

Was Released Tuesday Morning by Order of Judge Ross at Instance of Dorsey

Newt Lee, the negro night watchman who discovered the body of Mary Phagan in the basement of the National Trust factory, was released from the Fulton county jail Tuesday morning at 11:19 o'clock, by order of Judge L. S. Ross.

Lee carried in his hands as he left the jail a couple of baskets containing his clothes and one thing and another, he directed his footstep toward police headquarters, where he said he had some business to attend to.

To the reporters he said: "No, sir, I don't know where Tim Goin' yet I'm goin' to get me a job as soon as I can find one. I don't know if I shorb in, white folks. But I feel sorry for me and don't nothin' to do but to look for a job."

It turned out at police station that Lee's business consisted of getting some personal effects left there when he was transferred from police station to the jail.

Lee was placed in custody every six o'clock Sunday morning, April 11. It was he who discovered the body of Mary Phagan in the factory basement and who was arrested by police.

At first suspicion was directed toward Lee and the coroner's jury ordered him held for investigation by the grand jury. The grand jury did not think enough of the evidence against Lee to indict him, but agreed with Solicitor Dorsey that he should be held for the grand jury to witness against Leo M. Frank.

Leo M. Frank was held on the witness stand to rainout two days by question after question, sometimes making him and other times scolding him. The negro held his own in a wonderful manner. He could not be rattled or shaken.

Frank was found guilty Monday afternoon and Tuesday morning Solicitor Dorsey petitioned Judge Ross for an order releasing Newt Lee. The solicitor stated in his petition that the office and the city detectives had made a diligent search and had failed to find anything to connect Newt Lee with Mary Phagan's murder.

Evangelist J. M. Bass, now conducting a revival at Grace Methodist church, preached a special sermon to women Tuesday afternoon. The subject was "Fashions and Follies of Women."

He declared most women possessed several qualities that were not leading others in the right path, but that many of them were not aware of their own faults, and that they were not doing so good, tired by fashion and folly.

At the services Monday night fifteen contributions were made for the support of a special service for mothers, was at which the inmates of the Old Ladies Home were present. The service evening a church workers class will be organized by W. W. Stapleton, leader of the chorus.

Emil Selig Also Visits Him, Prisoner Slept Well, Jailers Say

Emil Selig, father-in-law of Leo M. Frank, was the first person to call on the convicted man at the jail Tuesday morning. Accompanied by a friend he arrived at the jail at 10 o'clock.

It was stated at the jail that Frank slept soundly Monday night, apparently untroubled by the verdict of guilty which had been returned against him late in the afternoon.

Accept for the emotion he betrayed which had been returned against him in Frank's manner is the same he betrayed throughout the trial.

Other costs of the trial, like the salary of the judge, who gets $2,000 per year for the county criminal court, and the salary of the county treasurer, who is fixed three times that, would be paid by the county, but the amount of these bills is not yet known.

These fees, which can not be estimated, will bring the total cost of the county's longest murder trial to probably $6,000. The defense of Leo M. Frank has probably been much more costly than his prosecution. One item alone, which the defense will pay is a stenographer's bill of approximately $275.

The stenographic record in the case shows 1,000 words, which at the usual rate of words, which at the usual rate, would make approximately $275.

Census Director Harris Proved Farmers' Friend

Persuaded McAdoo to Give Indirectly Many Deposits to Country Banks

The farmers and country bankers of the south have a valuable friend at Washington in the person of the director of the United States census, Hon. W. J. Harris, of Atlanta, just been shown in a striking way.

When the national treasury decided to send money to the south to help move the cotton crop, Director Harris, who is familiar with southern conditions, called on Treasurer McAdoo and urged that the banks in the smaller towns be supplied with a good share of the funds.

Director Harris had both argument and statistics in hand to prove the reasonableness of his point. A thing that stood him in good stead was the knowledge he had gained all over the state in handling for several years the activities of several hundred agents of the fire insurance company of which he is president.

One million and eight hundred thousand dollars will be distributed among the banks of Georgia alone. The importance of this distribution is tremendous and the administration has been highly commended on all sides.

Director Harris, who is now in Atlanta with his family, returned Tuesday to Rome and Cedarturn. He is in the best of health and was kept busy in Atlanta shaking hands with his hundreds of friends.

General Manager R. Morgan and Secretary A. E. Baker, of the railroad, attended the meeting of the commission. No action was taken on the application of the railroad, the matter being left for further consideration.

Other business matters were taken up also at the meeting Tuesday.

GEORGE E. KING IS ILL AT FRENCH HOSPITAL

President of King Hardware Company, Atlanta, Taken to Neully Sanitarium

(Special Cable to The Journal.) PARIS, France, Aug. 24.—George E. King, of Atlanta, Ga., is seriously ill with a complication of diseases at the American hospital at Neully.

He arrived Wednesday from Venice, where he was ill three weeks. It was thought the change of atmosphere and treatment at Neully would aid his recovery, but he has not rallied and his condition is now alarming.

His wife, three daughters and a son-in-law are with him and other relatives in America have been summoned by cable.

According to a cablegram received Saturday at the office of the King Hardware company here, George E. King, president, left that day for home, his health causing him to cut short his trip several weeks. He is accompanied by his family and is now thought to be on one of the fast passenger boats between New York and Havre.

Chief Jentzen Looks Like a Stranger Now

For a while Tuesday it looked as though the city would have to get a new chief of the sanitary department. Chief John Jentzen, there was a man at his desk, but everybody who was in to confer with him Jentzen batted when he saw the "stranger" at the desk, and went right out again.

He was a heavy-set man, and slightly resembled the chief, but the resemblance was not enough to convince the habitues of the city hall that the man had any right at Chief Jentzen's desk.

It was Chief Jentzen himself. He had shaved off the black mustache that usually adorns his upper lip, and the effect was so startling that even his best friends failed to recognize him at first glance.

President Wilson's message—a communication which formally denies recognition to the Huerta government though protesting sincere friendship for the great mass of Mexican people without voice in their government—is essentially a review of the mission of John Lind and his negotiations with the Huerta government.

Official announcement was made of the original proposals by the United States presented to Huerta by Mr. Lind. They were: 1—Cessation of hostilities and a definite armistice. 2—An early and free election. 3—Huerta to bind himself not to be a candidate.

SOLICITOR DORSEY GLAD FRANK TRIAL IS OVER

Swamped With Telegrams of Congratulation, Many From Persons Unknown to Him

One of the warmest men in Atlanta Tuesday was Solicitor General Hugh M. Dorsey.

"I'm mighty tired," said he Tuesday morning, at his home on Sixteenth street. "But I sleep very well last night, and I expect to remain at home all day, in bed, if I can, unless I am called to court."

But even at home the solicitor was not left undisturbed. His telephone was ringing almost constantly, with inquiries and messages from friends. Until late at night Monday it had rung. The calls came not only from Atlanta, but by long distance from other stations of the telephone company, principally in Georgia.

Telegrams from Georgia and other southern states, and other congratulatory messages, were read to the solicitor, bringing congratulations. Letters in the mail, brought by long distance, were also read to him.

The solicitor declared that the large majority of the letters and telegrams and telephone calls came from persons whom he did not know.

An inquiry as to whether he would take a vacation away elicited a laugh from the solicitor.

"A little rest here today," said he, "and then I get down to business for a few more days and try to make a little money for a living."

Mr. Dorsey's duties will demand his attention until the court term ends, and perhaps for some days thereafter. Then he will be busied by preparation for the next term of court.

ERNEST WOODRUFF ON INTERESTING AUTO TRIP

President of Georgia Trust Company Is Touring the Middle West

An interesting little sketch of a 2,900-mile auto trip made by Mr. Ernest Woodruff, president of the Georgia Trust Company, appears in a recent issue of the Minneapolis Journal.

Woodruff and George and Henry Woodruff, seven and fifteen years of age, were out in the car.

They left Atlanta three weeks ago and ran through Nashville, Louisville, Cincinnati, Toledo, St. Paul, Chicago, Mr. Woodruff said. "Then we reached that wonderful city of Minneapolis, of which we had heard much and so we came on. We are going back now to St. Louis, Memphis and Birmingham. We will have made about 2,900 miles when we get home."

Mr. Woodruff is president of the Georgia Trust Company. He is an optimist and has a very bright future in the north.

UNIVERSITY CLUB PLANS TO BECOME STATEWIDE

Proposes to Organize College Men as Power for Social and Educational Betterment

A plan to establish a branch of the University club of Atlanta in each of the larger cities of the state, and by that means organize the college men as a power for social and educational betterment, has been tentatively outlined to the members of the club by Thomas W. Connally, the secretary, at the direction of the club council.

The club already has 144 non-resident members, and if the increase continues at the present rate it will total to exceed the number of resident members.

The remarkable growth of the non-resident membership has impressed the officers with the extending influence of the University club idea and with the possibilities for making it a center of state-wide social and educational activity.

The constitution of the club provides for a council or governing board composed of resident members. It has been suggested that some kind of advisory board of non-resident members be organized. To this end and for the purpose of inviting suggestions, Secretary Connally has tentatively outlined to the members a letter setting forth the plan in a general way. The letter will be sent to the resident members of the club.

HITS DYNAMITE SACK BLOW WITH A HAMMER

Plumber Is Then Blown Ten Feet—Hands, Feet and Side Injured

Ed S. Hicks, a plumber, was badly injured Tuesday morning when he picked up a package wrapped in cloth and struck it a severe blow with a hammer.

The cloth contained dynamite and Hicks was blown ten feet away, sustaining injuries to both hands. His right side and left knee. The index finger of the right hand was amputated by Dr. Frank L. Eskridge, who was called in to attend Hicks' wounds.

The Last Week of "Blue Tag" Furniture Prices

When the doors of the furniture store are closed next Saturday at 1 o'clock, "Blue Tag" furniture prices will be a thing of the past.

So this must be Opportunity Week.

We have no desire to cry "wolf," but the fact remains, and it is a very important fact to those who have a sense of economy, that within the space of this week the furniture that will make your home the cozy, comfortable place you would have it may be bought to better advantage than will be possible in many months.

The "Blue Tag" savings are real and genuine, as real and genuine as the furniture itself. Such prices could not be maintained throughout the year. No store could afford them. And so, what housekeeper can afford to miss them now, while they do exist?

Whether it be the bedroom, the dining room, the living room, the library or all of these that need furniture, make selections right now and profit.

Now for a Quick Disposal of Some Two Hundred Waists

As startling as the low prices are, and as great as may be the expectations they will arouse, we venture that women are going to be pleasantly surprised when they see the waists these prices stand for.

But two hundred waists in such a waist store are a very small quantity and, like remnants, are not to be allowed to clutter, they must be done with, and so they will be, in a way most pleasing to those who would save.

For $2, $3 to $4 Waists Batistes and voiles are the most popular. There are too few of any one kind to explain accurately what you will find, but Cluny and Irish laces are much in evidence (yokes often show Irish lace medallions), lace collars and low flat collars, variously pretty, net frills—styles stylish this season; some are a bit mussed, but at $1.00!

For $1.50 & $1.75 Waists Women will not have to look at the price tickets to tell that these are $1.50 and $1.75 waists. They will see worth in the voiles and crepes and batistes, and they will know that such neat work in a dress and dainty laces and embroideries are unusual for even $1.50 and $1.75. High neck, long sleeves, and low neck, flat collars and short sleeves.

BUY NOW—SAVE $100 TO $250—ONE PRICE

Many Pianos Staged to Close Out at Less Than Half Former Prices, Others at Nearly Normal Prices—Your Opportunity to Secure a Fine Piano at a Big Saving on Easy Payments—Open Evenings—64 Peachtree and 157 Cotton Ave.

TERMS SO EASY ALL CAN BUY

If a history of piano selling in Atlanta should ever be written, this wonderful sale of ours would be entitled to at least a chapter.

The first day of this sale was a revelation to us. We were confident that the shrewd buyers would be quick to take advantage of these great offerings in good pianos, but we were not quite prepared for the rush of buyers that came. A rush got great in fact that it amounted to almost an overflow, and many are the expressions of gratification we hear from the different purchasers, each satisfied with his or her selection; pleased with the price and as to the liberal terms extended, whether it was a fine high grade grand or a beautiful player, also in many cases an upright, new and second hand, each was happy and satisfied.

Of course, the wise buyers realize that an opportunity like this may never occur again. You know we simply must move our entire stock in the next few days on account of making room for our fall shipments now on route and we realize to sell so many pianos in such a short time no cost, no profit could be considered. This will be Atlanta's greatest piano bargain event in years, and we want our friends and the friends of our friends and every one needing a piano to get the benefit at once. Our reductions are making in order to close out this stock quickly.

We want these pianos in the homes of the people rather than in the storage houses, and to make sure that this will be accomplished we have marked every instrument at prices so low your good judgment will tell you to buy.

Samples of Yesterday's Sale We sold yesterday three of those fine durable uprights that usually sell at $250, $300 and $375, two went at $112, and one at $137. They were special bargains and here they are.

Four Beautiful Mahogany Uprights. Went at $149, $167 and $188, each price varying according to style and finish of case. The former prices were $225, $250 to $300, the terms were $10 cash and $5 and $7 monthly.

Then we sold four very handsome high grade uprights, two in mahogany, one in dark oak and the other in French walnut. The regular prices of these instruments were $275, $300, $425. They went at $156, $126 and $243 on terms of $10 to $20 cash and $7 and $8 per month.

Three High Grade Uprights. That have never been sold in this city for less than $450, $500 and $550. One of these was closed out practically yesterday at $250, $267 and $237. The other two at $220 and $230 each and per month.

Three Players, Two Grands. Two of the players that were sold yesterday at $225, the regular price of $275, and one grand piano at $127, the regular price of $150.

from his determination not to "contest" and tell all the world that Thaw from Mattawan. His threat last week, to tell all the world that he would employ a counsel for him by the Thaw family.

Explaining his desire not to talk about the Thaw case, Jerome said: "I am sick to death of Thaw; the mention of his name by anybody has made me sick for some time now, and I am sorry that I have had to take up the case again."

OTTAWA, Ontario, Aug. 26.—Deputy Attorney General Francis Kennedy, of New York state, formally requested the immigration department today to deport Harry Thaw as soon as the habeas corpus proceedings at Sherbrooke are disposed of.

They want Thaw turned over to Chief Immigration Officer Clark at Montreal as soon as released by the court, and deported over the New York border.

J. Doherty, acting minister of the interior, and Blake Robertson, assistant superintendent of immigration of Canada, would not promise that Thaw would be sent direct to the New York boundary, saying merely that he would be dealt with according to the Canadian laws. It was explained that if Thaw were released to the immigration authorities tomorrow, a formal inquiry would be held at Sherbrooke to ascertain if he belonged to the class of persons liable to deportation. Should it be determined to deport him, announcement of that route by which he would be sent back would then be made.

Dr. Kist Helping in Fight to Deport Thaw (Continued from Page 1)

MATTAWAN, N. Y., Aug. 26.—R. P. Kist, head of Mattawan State hospital, left late last night for Sherbrooke, Canada, to assist in the efforts to have Harry K. Thaw deported from New York state.

"I don't know why I have been asked to go to Canada," he said. "I have had a request from the deputy attorney general. I don't know what part I can play. I can be the state's witness. Thaw deserted. I expect to go back here in a day or two, as the hospital is in a very pressing and cannot afford to wait."

The jury hoisted of a quartet which contained with song for an hour or two every evening. Two or three were also experts on the piano. On at least one occasion, it has been disclosed, an outsider heard the harmony of these notes. Mrs. Leber Townsend, who had been married to Juror Townsend but a short while before he was taken from her side to fill a chair in the jury box, called the hotel in the telephone one night and requested a maid to tell her husband she was home.

"Wait a minute," said the bailiff. A minute later Mrs. Townsend heard a woman's voice. "I don't know who she is," she said. "I don't know who she is," she said. "I don't know who she is," she said.

Each one of the jurors declared that he had been guided by the lottery ticket in the case and that conditions outside the court room had absolutely no influence on their verdict. At no time during the trial did they hear cheering, and occasionally they heard laughter in the audience, but it was provoked by a pleasantly, as has heretofore been the custom.

THEATRES

(Criticism of initial performances at the theatre given by the Atlanta Journal staff. All other matter appearing in this column is from the theatre management.)

THE NOVELTY OF THE FORSYTH AT THE FORSYTH this week is the Svengalli mystery act. It being a demonstration of the power of hypnotism.

A young lady comes on the stage, hypnotized by the professor, and when the proceeds to sing selections from an opera requested by the audience.

A good voice, well trained, the peculiar impression of hearing a person sing while under the hypnotic influence, speculation as to how the professor, in the audience, contrives to communicate to the young lady what selection, has been requested—these elements combine to make the act highly interesting.

The Meredith sisters, here before, have a number of new rollicking songs in their repertoire. One of them especially, "Orchestral Eyes," made a hit with the audience Monday night.

Miss Meredith Heaton, a handsome and attractively gowned young woman, aided by Fred Bond, who is quite funny, kept the laughter going at a rapid rate in their comedy sketch entitled, "Handkercher No. 15."

Then there is Claude Golden, an entertaining card expert; Lewis and Dody, the funny, funny, monologist, and the four Regals.

THE JEWEL AT THE BILOXI: The Jewel at the Biloxi company opened at the Bijou Monday night in "Her Fair Shadow," a drama with an abundance of plot, comedy, climax, and pathos.

At the Lyric. Owing to the fact that there have been no more inquiries at the Lyric theater for seats for the engagement of Miss Emma Brumby, that house next week, the management have decided to place the tickets on sale a day earlier than usual. Therefore, the box office at the Lyric will open Wednesday morning at 10 a. m., instead of Thursday, as has heretofore been the custom.

Mrs. Anderson says she was walking along Whitehall when the man first commenced following her, and that he scooped her after she turned into Mitchell street and tried to walk by her side, she says.

Mrs. Anderson was very indignant and says she will appear in person to testify against Page when he is given a hearing before the recorder.

JURY OF MARRIED MEN TO TRY DREW GAMINETTI

Second of Famous White Slavery Cases Opens Before Federal Court

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Aug. 26.—The second of the now nationally known Diggs-Gaminctti cases, the trial of F. Drew Gaminctti, who must face the charge of violating the Mann white slave act under which his companion, Maury I. Diggs, was convicted, started today in the United States district court.

The same witnesses who testified at the trial of Diggs last week appeared at the federal building and struggling through the crowd that had gathered about the court room, forced their way into the building, shoving themselves as well as they could from the battery of pickets.

It was understood that no testimony would be introduced through the time was to be given over to prospective jurors.

The same methods that were pursued in the examination of the takersmen at the Diggs trial were repeated. It was important both to the defense and to the government to learn whether takersmen under examination were married men and whether they were men of family. The government, as well known resident of that ward and a retired grocery merchant.

Mr. Farlinger has been a resident of Atlanta for thirty-two years. "Three or four names are prominently mentioned as probable candidates, but so far Mr. Farlinger's is the only public announcement.

HARRY SCOTT MAY BE HEAD OF PINKERTONS

With the Resignation of H. B. Pierce, Scott Will Likely Become Superintendent

The resignation of H. B. Pierce, superintendent of the Pinkerton Detective agency, has been accepted by the agency. A. S. Cowardin, of New Orleans, general superintendent of the agency, said that Pierce would have been discharged if he had not resigned.

Pierce was accused by Selector Dorsey of underhand methods in the matter of certain evidence he said the detective had concealed from the police. The club and the pay envelope figured in this evidence. Chief Langford, of the detective department, also denounced Pierce.

It is believed that Harry Scott, assistant superintendent, will become superintendent. It was a dominant figure during the Phagan case.

Motor Racers Get Together Tuesday Night in Good Events

One Inning Is Enough to Beat Cracker Clan

Good Ball Is Played in Most Every Inning—Error and Wild Pitch Followed by Another Error Helped

Worn with an eighteen-hour road trip, but trained down to their last ounce of strength, the Cracker arrived in Atlanta Monday afternoon at 1 o'clock and at 3:30 started an argument with the Cracker that lasted through the darkness of the night. The game ended at the close of the seventh inning, with the count three all.

DOUBLE BILL FOR TUESDAY

Price and Thompson Work for the Crackers in Memphis Battles

The Turtles and the Crackers in a double bill is the program at Ponce Park for the Tuesday afternoon. Yesterday's game went for seven innings without a decision and the two games Tuesday will be good ones. Billy Smith is anxious to land both if possible and he will use either price in the first battle and Carl Thompson in the last. The Cracker will be out to get a win with him and he will put up a game and Harrell to show up.

CHANGES FOR JUST A DAY

While the Crackers were getting a draw with the Turtles Monday the Gulls were getting a draw with the Cracker. The Atlanta Athletic club, however, had a little further down on the ladder. The Philadelphia team, shutting out St. Louis, but the Gulls pulled one out of the fire in the last inning and counteracted this. The Atlanta Athletic club, however, had a little further down on the ladder.

The Turtles did first scoring when they got a run in the first inning. Long dropped Merritt's pop fly. Howard pitched to Merritt, and he hit. Merritt and Wild pitched to Merritt. Harward scored when Wild pitched to Merritt. Merritt and Wild pitched to Merritt. Harward scored when Wild pitched to Merritt.

In the same inning the Turtles scored their runs. The Cracker came in and rapped out two. Acier singled and scored on Tommy Long's single. Three-bagger to the score. Merritt and Wild pitched to Merritt. Harward scored when Wild pitched to Merritt.

Star Players To Meet Here

Jack Love, Turtie second sacker, was the brilliant star of the day at the bat. He authored four hits out of five trips to the plate and stole two bases.

Tommy Long also had a field day. Out of five times to face the pitcher he made three hits and a sacrifice, and also stole two bases. His three-bagger in the sixth was the longest hit of the day, and came at a critical moment.

In the third inning George Merritt Bernhardt's hand, pulled some of the circus comedian's act. He had a drive to him in center and the pitcher set him. Bernhardt's hand was going through. However, George got it when he ran in yelling like a mad man and made a home run to the sun gods.

"Sugar Glen" Liebhardt showed some of the old act when he slipped in the eighth. He used to pitch and hit every second or third day and went west of them, too. When he pitched he got him, though, when he went west of them, too. When he pitched he got him, though, when he went west of them, too.

Al Nixon has plenty of speed, although he has not been able to make it on the path. Out of five times up he failed to get a hit and lost one desperate effort to beat out some of his infield fans.
