SLAYER IS RUSHED TO ATLANTA FOR SAFETY

Fearing Lynchings, Meriwether County Sends Black to Atlanta Station House

Water Brewster, negro slayer of L. C. Marchant, prominent Meriwether county farmer, is held in the Atlanta police station. The black was captured in the northern part of Heard county by J. M. Vinco, a farmer, at whose house he sought refuge, and later in the day was brought to this city to save him from possible violence at the hands of persons who cherish another negro, suspected of complicity in the killing of Sheriff J. H. Lynch of Meriwether county, brought the negro to this city.

Marchant was forty-two years old and leaves a wife and five children. He had lived near Greenville, where he had large holdings, his entire life. The crime was committed last Wednesday. According to Brewster's version of the affair, on that day Marchant upbraided him for neglecting his work. Brewster drew a revolver, aimed it at the farmer, and pulled the trigger. The chamber was empty and Marchant took the weapon from him, pushed him and put him in a buggy, with the intention of turning him over to the authorities at Greenville. The trip to town led by the negro's house. When they reached this place, Marchant from the buggy, ran into the bushes, secured a shotgun, and shot the farmer as he was stepping from the buggy to give chase.

He fired twice, one lead entering the hip and another the head. Brewster ran five miles to the home of W. W. Wain, who captured him when he appealed to some negro hands for a night's lodging.

Virgil Swanson, another negro, sought by the Meriwether county officers as an accomplice, was brought to this city Monday night. He bullet-riddled body was discovered hanging from a tree in a lonely spot Tuesday. The coroner held an inquest and a jury found that the negro had come to his death at the hands of persons unknown.

ALL THREE JUDGES OF ATLANTA CIRCUIT WANT Judge Bell Will Return Thursday, However, Ready to Sign Papers

A precedent of the number of years is being broken by the absence from Atlanta of all three judges of the superior court, Atlanta circuit.

When the courts are not in session it has been customary for one of the three judges to remain in the city for the purpose of starting injunctions and similar papers, where time plays an important part, and to hear habeas corpus and similar cases.

Judge George L. Bell, who has been absent for only about a week, will return Thursday, however, and the lawyers again will have a chance to request his signature on official papers.

Judge Bell is in North Carolina. Judge W. D. Ellis is visiting relatives in South Carolina, and Judge John T. Preston is making a tour of the north and east.

MACON BOOSTER TRAIN TO TOUR SOUTH GEORGIA

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) MACON, Ga., Aug. 27.—Business men from the chamber of commerce have decided on another booster train for Macon. Those interested in the trip proposed to operate the train through the north, but owing to the inability to secure a sufficient number of passengers, it was decided to operate the train through central and south Georgia.

An itinerary has already been decided on. Some of the largest towns in central and south Georgia will be visited. The train will leave Macon on the morning of September 14 and return four days later. A hundred passengers in addition to the Macon drum and bugle corps will be carried along.

PRIMARY DATE A TRICK, SAYS MAYOR WOODWARD

Says City Political Ring Is Striving to Perpetuate Its Control of Council

Mayor Woodward asserts that the action of the city executive committee in fixing September 30 as the date for the city primary reveals a plot by Atlanta's city political ring to perpetuate its control of the general council. City primaries in the past have usually been held toward the latter part of October. This year the city executive committee moved the date back nearly a month and decreed that the registration for the primary shall close on September 9.

"It is an outrage," Mayor Woodward declares. "The politicians are afraid of the people. They won't trust their political future to the voters."

It is the mayor's belief that the politicians, fearing a new charter ticket in all wards, quickly lined up the situation and then had the date for the primary hurried up in the hope that the advocates of a new charter would not have time to formulate a definite plan and bring out candidates in sympathy with the people.

Also, Mayor Woodward declares war on the new charter framed by council, which in his opinion is a piece of legislation and which will be submitted to the people at a special election set by the legislature for September 24.

"It is time for the people to wake up and take an interest in city affairs," says the mayor. "The fact that the politicians have fixed a date to suit themselves for the primary, if it is not too late to bring out a ticket of candidates who have no political axe to grind and whose only interest will be to give the people a straightforward, businesslike administration of city affairs."

MUSICAL BENEFIT TO BE GIVEN AT AUDITORIUM

Proceeds Will Go to Help Festival Association and Fifth Regiment Band

A brass band and organ concert will be given at the auditorium Thursday evening of this week, under the joint auspices of the Fifth Regiment band, national guard of Georgia, and the Atlanta Music Festival association. The proceeds of the concert will be for the benefit of the band and association. The association will use its part in helping pay for the free Sunday concert, which will become a permanent popular feature of Atlanta's musical life. The program will be as follows: March, "Grand Entry"—Barber. Overture, "Tarente"—Rossini. Duet, "A Hunting Scene"—P. Bucchioni. Selection, "The Sunny South"—Lampe. Organ Selection—Sheldon. Overture, "Rosamunde"—Organ accompaniment—Schubert. "Remicks Hits 1913"—Lampe. "Grand Fantasia, 'Home, Sweet Home, Sweet Home'" (Dedicated to John Philip Sousa, descriptive of the manner in which he had to play "Home, Sweet Home" to each nation on his famous "around the world tour").

The band leader will be Chief Musician C. E. Barber, of the Fifth Regiment, and the organist will be Charles Sheldon.

Owing to the keen popular interest in the concert, particularly among friends of the Fifth Regiment, it has been decided to make the price of admission 25 cents and 10 cents. It is hoped that the auditorium will be crowded. The program will be noted in a decidedly popular tone. The band selection, a grand march, is the composition of Mr. Barber.

BLEASE GREETS SULZER AS NEW YORK GOVERNOR

COLUMBIA, N. C., Aug. 27.—In a letter today Governor Blease recognized William Sulzer as governor of New York and accorded Lieutenant Governor Flynn for his conduct in attempting to assume the duties of the office. Governor Blease states that he has felt the sting of persecution through impeachment to the action of the investigation committee of last summer.

"Trust in God and the white people and you will always be a winner," is the South Carolina governor's advice to the impeached governor of New York.

ATLANTA AS MARKET INTERESTS THE WORLD

Chamber of Commerce Industrial Bureau Receives Letters From All Nations

The world is becoming interested in Atlanta as a manufacturing and commercial center. The statement may seem broad, but letters which are coming daily to the new Industrial Bureau of the chamber of commerce indicate that the city's fame is being spread to many portions of the globe.

South American, European and Asiatic countries are among those sending inquiries as to trade conditions and resources of Atlanta.

Tuesday, W. H. Leahy, of the bureau, received a letter from Valencia, Spain, inquiring as to the market for peanuts, alfalfa, almonds, onions, and other products. The writer said that he was much interested in securing information along these lines and also information about general trade conditions.

A few days ago a letter was received from South America, asking about the general trade condition and for specific information about Atlanta's chamber of commerce and the industrial bureau.

These are but two of hundreds of letters that are pouring in, and the bureau is steadily widening the scope of its correspondence and its usefulness.

Now Are the Days Children Need Care

Summer Heat Dangerous to Little Ones Whose Bowels Are Neglected

A mother cannot do better for her children than to teach them from their earliest days the regularity of the bowels. Regularity can be promoted without the food and by so varying the food that all the elements of digestion are used, when nature will do the work of the food, the health of the child depends upon this.

But try as you will there are times when the little one will become constipated and bilious. In hot weather immediate attention is necessary, as many serious diseases result from stuffed-up bowels. Don't give salts or cathartics or purgatives, as they are too harsh. But give a gentle, pleasant-tasting bowel stimulant like Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It has been used by the children of this as well as a former generation, and thousands of families are proud to speak well of it, among whom we can mention Mrs. Louise Reynolds, 489 Jackson st., Lynchburg, Va., who is glad to recommend it, and Mr. Chas. W. Allen, Manor, Tex., who writes that he often felt 100 years old, but feels younger now than his years.

Here is Mexican Message of Wilson

THEME FOR WILSON

ation by the authorities at the capital is evidently impossible by any other means than force. HUERTA HAS FAILED TO MAKE GOOD HIS PROMISES

"Difficulties more and more entangle those who claim to constitute the legitimate government of the republic. They have not made good their claim in fact. Their successes in the field have proved only temporary. War and disorder, devastation and confusion seem to threaten to become the settled fortune of the distracted country."

"As friends we could wait no longer for a solution which every week seemed further away. It was our duty at least to volunteer our good offices—our offer to assist, if we might, in effecting some arrangement which would bring relief and peace and set up a universally acknowledged political authority there."

Accordingly I took the liberty of sending the Hon. John Lind, formerly governor of Minnesota, as my personal spokesman and representative to the City of Mexico, with the following instructions:

INSTRUCTIONS WILSON GAVE TO GOVERNOR JOHN LIND

"Press very earnestly upon the attention of those who are now exercising authority or wielding influence in Mexico, the following considerations and advice:

"The government of the United States does not feel at liberty any longer to stand idly by, while it becomes daily more and more evident that no real progress is being made toward the establishment of a government at the City of Mexico which the country will obey and respect."

"The government of the United States does not stand in the same case with the other great governments of the world in respect to what is happening or what is likely to happen in Mexico. We offer our good offices not only because of our genuine desire to play the part of a friend, but also because we are expected by the powers of the world to act as Mexico's nearest friend."

ACTED FOR THE GOOD OF MEXICO'S FUTURE ALONE

"We wish to act in these circumstances in the most earnest and disinterested friendship. It is our purpose in whatever we do or propose in this perplexing and distressing situation to pay the most scrupulous regard to the sovereignty and independence of Mexico—that we take as a matter of course to which we are bound by every obligation of right and honor—but also to give every possible evidence that we act in the interest of Mexico alone, and not in the interest of any person or body of persons who may have personal or property claims in Mexico which they may feel that they have the right to press."

"We are seeking to counsel Mexico for her own good and in the interest of her own peace, and not for any other purpose whatever. The government of the United States would deem itself discredited if it had any selfish or ulterior purpose in transactions where the peace, happiness and prosperity of a whole people are involved. It is acting as its friendship for Mexico, not as any selfish interest, dictates."

"The present situation in Mexico is incompatible with the fulfillment of international obligations on the part of Mexico, with the civilized development of Mexico here and with the maintenance of liberal political and economic conditions in Central America. It is upon no common occasion that the government of the United States offers her counsel and assistance. All America cries out for a settlement."

"A satisfactory settlement seems to us to be conditioned upon HUERTA ASKED NOT TO BE PRESIDENTIAL CANDIDATE

"(A)—An immediate cessation of fighting throughout Mexico, a definite armistice solemnly entered into and scrupulously observed on all sides to take part.

"(B)—Security given for an early and free election in which all will agree to take part.

"(C)—The consent of General Huerta to bind himself not to be a candidate for election as president of the republic at this election, and (D)—The agreement of all parties to abide by the results of the election and co-operate in the most loyal way in organizing and supporting the new administration."

"Mr. Lind executed his delicate and difficult mission with singular tact, firmness and good judgment, and made clear to the authorities at the City of Mexico not only the purpose of his visit but also the spirit in which it had been undertaken. But the proposals he submitted were rejected, in a note the full text of which I take the liberty of having before you."

"I am led to believe that they were rejected, partly because the authorities at Mexico City had been grossly misinformed and misled upon two points. They did not realize the spirit of the American nation in this matter, their earnest friendliness and yet sober determination that some just solution be found for the Mexican difficulty; and they did not believe that the present administration spoke through Mr. Lind, for the people of the United States. The effect of this unfortunate misunderstanding on their part is to leave them singularly isolated and without friends who can effectively aid them."

"So long as the misunderstanding continues we can only await the time of their awakening to a realization of the actual facts. We cannot thrust our good offices upon them. The situation must be given a little more time to work itself out in the new circumstances, and I believe that only a little while will be necessary."

"For the circumstances are new. The rejection of our friendly proposals makes them new and will inevitably bring its own alterations in the whole aspect of affairs. The actual situation of the authorities at Mexico City will presently be revealed."

IT IS OUR DUTY TO BE VERY PATIENT

"Meanwhile, what is it our duty to do? Clearly, everything that we do must be rooted in patience and done with calm and disinterested deliberation. Impatience on our part would be childish, and would be fraught with every risk of wrong and folly. We can afford to exercise the self-restraint of a really great nation which realizes its own strength and seems to miss it. It was our duty to offer our active assistance. It is now our duty to know what true neutrality will do to enable the people of Mexico to set their affairs in order again and wait for a further opportunity to offer our friendly counsel. The door is not closed against the resumption, either upon the initiative of the administration or of the effort to bring order out of the confusion by friendly co-operation. It is to be feared, increased danger to the non-combatants in Mexico as well as to those actually in the field of battle."

URGES ALL AMERICANS TO LEAVE IMMEDIATELY

"The position of outsiders is always particularly trying and full of hazard where there is civil strife and a whole country in upset. We should earnestly urge all Americans to leave Mexico at once and should assist them to get away in every way possible—not because we would mean to shakeen in every effort to safeguard their lives and their interests, but because it is imperative that they should take no unnecessary risks when it is physically possible for them to leave the country."

"I should let every one who assumes the air of authority in every part of Mexico know in the most unequivocal way that we shall vigilantly watch the fortunes of those Americans who cannot get away and shall hold those responsible for their sufferings and losses to the strictest reckoning. That can and will be made plain before the possibility of a misunderstanding."

NO ARMS OR WEAPONS ALLOWED TO EITHER SIDE

"For the rest I deem it my duty to exercise the authority conferred upon me by the law of March 4, 1912, to see to it that neither side to the struggle now going on in Mexico receive any assistance from this side of the border. I shall follow the best practice of nations in the matter of neutrality by forbidding the exportation of arms of any kind from the United States to any part of the Republic of Mexico—a policy suggested by several interesting precedents and certainly dictated by many manifest considerations of practical expediency. We cannot in the circumstances be the parties of either party to the contest that now distracts Mexico, nor can we ourselves solve the virtual impasse between them."

"I am happy to say that several of the great governments of the world have given this government their generous moral support in urging upon the provisional authorities at the City of Mexico the acceptance of our proffered good offices in the spirit in which they were made."

WILL TRUMPET AS MEXICO'S FRIEND INSTEAD OF ENEMY.

"We have not acted in this matter under the ordinary principles of international obligation. All the world expects us in such circumstances to stand aloof and to be a friend and intimate adviser. This is our immemorial relation towards them."

"There is nowhere any serious question that we have the moral right in the case or that we are acting in the interest of a fair settlement and of good government, and that the great nations of the world are in the interest of our own fish interest of our own."

"If further matters were necessary than our own good will towards a sister republic and our own deep concern to see peace and order prevail in Central America, we are attempting to mankind to what the great nations of the world towards what we may attempt in dealing with this distressed people at our doors, should make us feel the most solemnly and anxiously of the utmost length of patience and forbearance in this painful and anxious business."

"The steady pressure of moral force will help us to see peace and order prevail in Central America, and we shall triumph over Mexico's friends more than we could triumph as her enemies—and how much more harmoniously, with how much higher and finer satisfaction of conscience and of honor!"

"If the government of the United States will be glad to play any part in this statement or if we may honorably and consistently with international right, assist the administration to recognize and in every way possible and proper, to assist the administration chosen and set up in Mexico in the same manner as the conditions are now stated."

"Taking all the existing conditions into consideration, the government of the United States can conceive of no reasons sufficient to justify those who are attempting to change the policy or executive authority of Mexico in declining the offices of friendship that we offer. Can Mexico give the civilized world any reason for declining our good offices? If Mexico can suggest any better way in which to show our friendship, serve the people of Mexico and meet our international obligations, we are more than willing to consider the suggestion."

I am firmly convinced the testimony of the desire to throw suspicion from themselves, was only accepted because of prejudice."

Conley Probably Will Be Indicted on Friday

The Fulton county grand jury will hold a meeting Friday morning at which it is expected that the indictment against Conley will be returned.

When Conley is arraigned in court, following his indictment, he will probably enter a plea of guilty to the minimum penalty on conviction of being an accessory after the fact of a murder three years in the penitentiary.

Neither the convicted man's mother nor wife called Wednesday morning, although Mrs. Frank remained with her husband and a close personal friend. The only medicine administered, even during the trying days of the trial, was a mild tonic to stimulate his appetite.

No legal moves in the Frank case are expected for several weeks. Attorney Reuben R. Arnold, of counsel for the defense, is now at Bedford, Pa., where he will remain several weeks. Later this month he will be argued before Judge L. S. Sloan on October 4. The preparation of the amendment to the motion is being hastened, owing to the length of the record in the case, and will probably not be concluded for some days.

HIGH PARENTS BESIEGE MARTHA BERRY SCHOOL

But It Is Institution for Poor Boys and Girls, and Must Decline All Others

It is a pity that so many youths from the best homes in the South should be denied the privilege of a much needed Christian industrial education for efficient and independent citizenship.

Another reason why it became necessary to have superior is that such pupils could be far ahead in the study of country pupils of similar ages.

In a recent letter emanating from the office of Miss Martha Berry, director of the school, the following comment is made in connection with the above statement.

"It is a pity that so many youths from the best homes in the South should be denied the privilege of a much needed Christian industrial education for efficient and independent citizenship.

Why cannot our churches provide it? Why cannot our industrial schools provide it? Why cannot our private schools provide it?

"Farmer Bill" Zimmer Marries Detroit Miss

Romance of Fifteen Years Ended Tuesday Night and Now Kimballville Has a Mrs. Zimmer for Mistress

The famous Kimballville farm gained a new boss Tuesday evening when Will Zimmer, known over half the United States as "Farmer Bill," quietly, and almost secretly, became a householder.

Only three or four of the most intimate friends of the couple were in the parsonage early Tuesday evening, half an hour later they left, man and wife.

Later the bride and groom, Mr. and Mrs. Zimmer, were seen at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Chancelor, Clarendon Chancelor, Mark and Mrs. Joseph Hill, Mrs. Ella Hutchinson, Mercer, and E. R. Tucker, drove to the Piedmont hotel to enjoy the wedding dinner.

SUICIDE ATTEMPT IS THWARTED BY WIFE

When Hutchins Cried, "I Will Blow Out My Brains!" Wife and Sister Save Him

Determined resistance by his wife and sister alone prevented James W. Hutchins, of 216 McDaniel street, from setting a pistol and blowing out his brains as he threatened to do Tuesday night about 10 o'clock.

Hutchins went home early Tuesday evening and after brooding some time told his family he had lost $500 in a business deal earlier in the day. He continued to brood all evening and while sitting in the room with his wife and sister, suddenly arose and cried, "I will blow out my brains!"

Neighbors were attracted by the noise and called the police station, declaring Hutchins was beating his wife. Call officers Milam and Palmer were sent out on the case and when they arrived the struggle was still going on.

Neighbors stopped the row and Hutchins seemed to grow calm and promised he would not again make such an attempt. Hutchins was formerly a bailiff in a justice court and was indicted three years ago for shooting a negro he was attempting to place under arrest. He was tried on that indictment and sentenced to the years in the penitentiary, but an appeal was granted and now he is out on bond awaiting a new trial.

Miss Bunting herself has a role said to be quite a hard one to play and a splendid one to her dainty personality, and a splendid one to her leading man, Mr. Whitaker.

He then explains that he will visit the audience and that any request for an international grand or comic opera will be played or sung by the subject, and that he will not speak a word in sending her the request. Out in the audience Swengall gets any number of people to request an opera, and while singing, and just as suddenly will break into the new request that has been whispered to him.

WELF FOR PASSING WORTHLESS CHECKS

Bank Books Showed $100.00 Deposits, but Note for $5 Was Turned Down

Though he had in his possession bank books of different institutions over the month showing aggregate deposits of approximately $100.00, L. W. Wells, of the Jones-Wells company, real estate dealer, with offices in the Third National bank building, was arrested Tuesday afternoon by the police on the complaint of a North Broad street shoe house for passing a check for $5 that the bank refused to pay.

According to reports, Wells gave this check to the shoe store in payment of a pair of shoes priced at $1.50 and received in cash the change. He had been notified by the bank, it is said, that his account was overdrawn, and warned that no checks bearing his signature would be honored until a sufficient deposit to cover the discrepancy had been made.

Wells was arrested by Call Officer Gorman just as he was preparing to leave the Aragon hotel and was in the act of passing a check.

The numerous bank books showing such different conditions of the man were found on his person when searched at police headquarters. One book alone showed deposits amounting to $46,000. The detective declares the entries are forged. The prisoner admitted that he had passed worthless checks in one place and elsewhere but declared that he was merely overdrawn. He is a business man is liable to have when money is tight. He has passed checks amounting to $46,000, shown with a balance in his own name, but he admitted later that this account was closed long ago and that he was in his being held at police station.

MAYOR GIVES HIS VIEWS ON CITY CHARTER MATTER

Favors Commission Plan and Non-Commission Plan Being Submitted at Same Time

Mayor Woodward Wednesday morning outlined his views as to the best way to solve the new charter situation. In the first place, he believes the people should and will vote down the so-called new charter gotten up by counsel, passed by the recent legislature, and which will be submitted to the people at a special election ordered by the legislature for that purpose on September 24.

With this so-called new charter voted down, says the mayor, the matter can proceed to a final and permanent solution of the whole charter matter in due and proper time. The reason the mayor would like to see council's charter voted down, as he says, is that he doesn't consider it a thorough revision.

"After the people have voted down this so-called new charter gotten up by counsel, we can then proceed to settle the matter once and for all. 'What I favor is to have two commissions made up of twenty-five citizens each, one for each plan. Let one commission consist of abolitionist commission government men, and let the other consist of a commission charter drawn up by a majority and council and boards, as we have now—or rather, as we are supposed to have. Let this committee draw the best charter along that line that they know how. And then let both charters be submitted to the people and let them take their choice.

"If the people want the system we got now, then let them have it for the town belongs to them. But the system we have now is not consistent with itself. Some heads of departments are elected by the people and some by council. Some are elected by council. Some are elected by council. The thing ought to be harmonized so that it sticks to one theory all the way through."

Tuesday was but a sample of the days

Fans of Atlanta Have Twelve Days to Beat Birmingham's Record

Today Is One of the Days—Go Out to Ponce Park, See the Field Day, See Atlanta Lick Memphis, Help the Cracker, Win the Pennant, and Help Atlanta Beat Birmingham

Mobile is six games ahead of Atlanta in the fight for the pennant; Birmingham is 2,000 ahead of Atlanta in the battle for attendance honors. That is the situation today. The Cracker ball players are doing the best that is in them to overtake Mobile and bring the record up to the place where it belongs. It is up to the people of Atlanta to do the best that is in them to bring back the attendance honor to the place where it belongs.

For weeks past Bill Smith's men have waged an uphill struggle against terrific odds until today they stand second in the list of attendance records as they can push the hill-top. Tuesday they won a double-header. That is the way for them from the time the ump is out of "Play ball" until the last man is out in the ninth inning. The Atlanta team is doing all that men can do to win a pennant for you and me.

It is not right that Atlanta's people should do as much for them, as much for themselves, to show that we are not unappreciative of the bats they are bringing. We know that Atlanta is doing all that men can do to win the Gull for the pennant? Birmingham has been in the first division playing to tremendous crowds daily. The Barons have played to 2,000 more people than have the Cracker this year. What is the reason? Here in Birmingham, we know the Atlanta fans are the best in the south. We know that Atlanta has a better team than Birmingham. We know that Atlanta is the better baseball team. They why? Put it down to ignorance. The people of Atlanta haven't realized the situation. They didn't know that Birmingham is about to have the laugh on us right over there in Alabama. They are trying to put the "once over" on Atlanta.

But now that Atlanta and her people are awake to the situation, it is up to them to show Birmingham that Atlanta is never defeated till she's licked, and not that Atlanta was awake Tuesday when 4,000 fans stormed Ponce de Leon and yelled for the Cracker. Tuesday was but a sample of the days

AND NOW NEWT LEE WANTS JOB AND WIFE

His Spouse Has Vanished With His Chickens and He's Ready for Work

Newt Lee, discoverer of Mary Phelan's body, once suspected of complicity in her murder, a leading witness against Leo M. Frank and, with the exception of James Conley, probably the most widely known negro in Atlanta, wants a job, clothes and a home, and he wants his wife. More than anything else he wants his wife, who in some mysterious manner during his incarceration in the police station and tower disappeared from their humble home at the same time also disappeared some two dozen chickens and Lee's household effects.

So when old Newt Lee breathed the air of freedom at the front door of the jail yesterday shortly after noon he was almost as destitute of worldly goods as when he first appeared on this strange scene some forty-two years ago. He had the clothes that he wore—and they didn't amount to much.

From the jail he went to the office of Graham & Chapman, his attorneys, and later sought the home he found at 837 1/2 N. Peachtree street. The office and he took his lawyers his predicament. They agreed to allow the use of their rooms as an employment office for Newt until he gets a job. The negro forthwith announced that he was ready for employment at phone main 3152.

Lee has cut a bit of faith left in the public. He was good to him during his incarceration to a watermelon and much "chawin'" tobacco. Now he hopes to see his record of faithfulness a recommendation to a prospective employer.

McLOUGHLIN HOLDS TITLE

Record of Wins in Sets, However, Is Broken by Williams, Who Gave Champ Hardest Match of Tournament

NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 27.—The lawn tennis championship record for 1931 was practically completed on the final Grand court when Maurice E. McLoughlin, of San Francisco, successfully defended his own title in singles and maintained the Pacific coast supremacy by defeating L. Norris Williams, of Philadelphia, in the finals of the all-comers tournament in a well fought four set match. The score 6-4, 5-7, 6-2, 4-6.

As McLoughlin and T. C. Bundy, of Dent, met in the last of the championship matches in the best of three sets, the former, in a match which was a fairly close one, won the first set 6-4. The second set was won by Bundy, 7-5. In the third set, McLoughlin won 6-4. In the fourth set, Bundy won 6-4.

Williams gave McLoughlin the hardest match since the title passed from him to Bundy in 1928. The champion's record of 17 wins in 18 matches was broken by Williams, who gave him the hardest match of the tournament.

McLoughlin's record in the championship is 17 wins in 18 matches. He has won the title in 1928, 1929, 1930 and 1931. He is the only player to have won the title four times.

Williams, who is a former champion, is the only player to have won the title in 1931. He is the only player to have won the title in 1931.

LOOKOUTS LOSING MONEY; WORKING FOR NEXT SEASON

THE ANSWER. The Yankee scout remarked to Chance. 'I've found the proper guy. And she the batting eye; He has the eye and arm and head, And runs it flat in ten-- The blocks is there all even ways-- And back around again.' Chance coldly looked upon the scout And heaved a careworn sigh. Said he, 'I care not of his legs, His arm or head or eye; Within his native nest; Just tell me how his denture is And never mind the rest.'

Rollie Zelder may or may not be playing standard ball just now. But the time is coming when Rollie will be there or thereabouts with his share of the general harvest. All he needs is his chance. We spent four days in a St. Louis hospital and have been batting .187 ever since. Rollie was there four weeks.

Here's another boost for the gene Rollie. When the kee-veed work-some started in to remove a pound of bone they were forced to work exclusively upon his foot.

THE MACS AGAIN. As we have pointed out, the prevailing tendency appears to be towards the Macs, with McGraw, McEvedy, McDermott and McLoughlin. If you climb their family tree high enough it's even money you'll find their correct cognomen status should be Macintosh, MacIntosh and McCobb. Nothing to it.

VARDON'S PUTTING. 'If Harry Vardon is such a poor putter comparatively,' writes a non-combatant, 'how do you account for the fact that he has won five British championships when you also add that putting is one of the main scoring features of the game?' When a golfer can play a million shot 180 yards away to within 3 feet of the pin and a mangle from 140 yards away up to within 3 feet, and after missing the put can still get the hole, the chances are that he is likely to have a fair score with the few he does manage to sink. As it is, the fellow can hardly ever score any better than 72 or 73.

Just why Vardon should be master of driver, brassie, spoon, cleek, iron, flogger, mangle and niblick, and then be slave to his putter is merely another angle that makes golf quite a game when taken in its composite details.

Then again it would be too much of a shock if there was even one golfer living unable to frame the reason and essence of an alibi.

AS TO BAWLING OUT THE UMP. He awed you the play as you slide in safe. And he blew himself to a bust; He waded you out when you beat the peg In a scramble of spikes and dust; So why not rise with a mandrin roar And the brand of a certain word-- For of course you never missed one yourself Or fanned with a pal on third.

THE DISCREPANCY. The Athletics had 11 people on the hospital list, which accounts for the fact that they were unable to increase their lead to 9 games. If they lose 8 or 10 more the gap is likely to drop to 7 games, provided the three who are left are not Collins, Baker and Melvin.

The American league must raise a tougher handicap than only 11 wounded and maimed if Cleveland, Washington or the Sox are to enter the post-season debate. Having gone this far at so much speed, the season's momentum will carry the giants over, though nothing but their uniforms are left.

THE GIANT ANGLE. The name is true of the Giants. McGraw might lose 12 or 15 of his regulars and make the finish close--but not close enough to count. For this is the period of the year's play, when force of habit takes an unbreakable grip.

Naps and Phillips upset tradition until they reached the stretch and then gave vent to the old stuff. When you've never won it's a tougher battle in the stretch against the contender who has--and knows the way.

FABLE. Once upon a time J. Evers and the Great Zim played in a series against the Giants and were not thrown off the field. They figured that their presence was needed in tough series and refused to weaken their club by being dispersed.

Moral--There are times when fiction can be made stranger than fact.

SETS RECORD HOLD BOXING EACH ROUND TO BE LEGAL

CLEVELAND, Aug. 27.--Harry Vardon and Edward Ray, English professional golfers touring the United States at the Mayfield club, defeated Joe K. Eber, city champion of Cleveland, and Eben M. Byers, of Pittsburgh, 5 up in a 9-hole match. In defeating Byers and Eber, Vardon broke the Mayfield course record, both for 18 and 36 holes. In the morning round he lowered the 18-hole record, held by Byers, from 12 to 87. In the afternoon round Vardon's partner, Ray, bettered the former 18-hole record, setting the former 18-hole record, doing it in 71. John D. Rockefeller was an enthusiastic spectator. Syracuse university are likely to quit the baseball game.

Manager Moleworth is uncertain as to whether he will be able to outstay to Cuba with the Barons after the close of the Southern league season. The clubby pilot has the difficult task before him of building up a club for next season and this will probably require all of his time. It is probable that he will not be able to cruise to the Antilles.

Notwithstanding the fact that the local club will lose between $2,600 and $2,800 this year the officials of the local association are fairly well satisfied in view of existing conditions. In comparison with the financial showing of the club last year the condition this season may be almost described as satisfactory, as the stockholders in 1912 lost between $5,000 and $7,000, according to the estimate of President Andrews.

In fixing the loss this year at from $2,600 to $2,800 President Andrews, who gave out the estimate, takes into consideration the gross revenue derived from the club, that is admissions, sale money, and a possible draft price from the club, that is a class A.A. club.

While the last mentioned is a conservative estimate there is a faint possibility that the season might turn out practically even this year financially, although it cannot be ascertained before doing.
