J. C. SHIRLEY, MARIETTA STREET FURNITURE DEALER, NAMED BY I. W. FISHER IN PHAGAN CASE, LAUGHS AT ACCUSATIONS

THOS. E. WATSON ON TRIAL AT AUGUSTA BEFORE U. S. JUDGE

Georgia Editor Faces Indictment Charging That He Sent Obscene Matter Through the Mails in His Paper

ATTACK ON CATHOLICS CONTAINED THE MATTER

S. G. McLendon, Former Railroad Commissioner, Watson's Chief Counsel, Predicts Case Won't Reach Jury

By Associated Press. AUGUSTA, Ga., Oct. 20.—Thomas E. Watson, lawyer, politician and one-time political opponent of the People's party, today was placed on trial before Federal Judge Rufus S. Foster in the United States district court here, on a charge of sending obscene matter through the mails.

Watson was arrested in the fall of 1912 on a special warrant issued upon complaint of the postal authorities, and a board of Augusta, Georgia, United States Commissioner W. H. Bledsoe. At the conclusion of this case, the Georgia editor was bound over to the federal grand jury, which issued the indictment against him on November 12, 1912.

The specific charge against Watson is that he published in the Jeffersonian, in July 1911 and April and May of 1912, certain questions which he addressed to persons in confidential, which questions the indictment alleges, are obscene and filthy. These are the questions appearing in a series of articles attacking the Roman Catholic church and its priests.

The indictment against Mr. Watson was returned by the grand jury on the 21st day of July, S. G. McLendon, leading attorney for the defendant, advised, however, that should a grand jury be convened to issue an indictment, he was prepared to follow the course of the defendant.

CONSTITUTIONAL RIGHT IS DENIED

United States District Attorney Alexander Abrams of Macon, conducting the government's case, today announced the opinion that the trial would be speedy, although he said that he would press vigorously the charge against Watson.

Watson himself did not arrive until a late hour in the evening, having been held here from Thomson. He stated his home in it was said by his attorneys that Watson had decided to remain away until just before the trial, in order to avoid any public demonstration such as occurred at a statement early today Attorney Abrams said that it was the desire of the defense to avoid, if possible, any questioning of a religious controversy, and to hold the case to its merits on a question of constitutional right. It is the idea of the defense to challenge the bill upon the ground that the articles published in Watson's magazine, the Jeffersonian, were written by him as a means to his conviction on the charge of sedition, and that the articles were in violation of the provisions of the freedom of the press as set forth in the constitution of the United States.

MAY END IN TWO DAYS

United States District Attorney Abrams has announced a court opinion that the case further than to say that he believed it would be finished by the end of the month, he based his opinion on the fact that the few witnesses would be examined by the government or the defense. He was positively assured that if there were any other witnesses summoned to testify for the state and that no other witnesses would be introduced by the defense.

When the case was called by Judge Foster, Mr. McLendon immediately filed a motion requesting the government to furnish a bill of particulars. This was done in order to get before the court the exact words of the alleged obscene passages which the indictment charges are violations of the law. The case against Watson was called by Judge Foster at 10 o'clock for trial, and Judge Foster at once directed the drawing of the jury. In answer to the petition of the defense, saying that the government had a bill of particulars supplying the names of the Jeffersonian containing the alleged obscene language, the attorney General of the United States, District Attorney Abrams, to furnish the same, and they were set at once present.

MRS. PANKHURST IS ADMITTED TO U. S.; IS FREE IN NEW YORK

English Militant's Appeal to Washington Wins Against Refusal of Board of N. Y., to Let Her Land

PRESIDENT TALKED WITH SECY. WILSON ABOUT IT

The Secretary Announced Her Admittance, Following Conference—She Will Sail From New York on Nov. 27

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, the militant British suffragist, is free to enter the United States. The Ellis island board's order of deportation was reversed after President Wilson had conferred on the celebrated case with Secretary Wilson and a hearing had been concluded before Immigration Commissioner Cammett.

Secretary Wilson announced at the conclusion of his conference with this president that Mrs. Pankhurst would be admitted upon her own recognizance, with the understanding that she would depart at the end of her lecture engagement. No bond was exacted.

Mr. Reeves, her attorney, declared Mrs. Pankhurst had accepted passage back to England on the steamer Majestic, sailing from New York November 27.

Attorney Frank S. O'Neil referred to Mrs. Pankhurst's pledge that she would conduct herself in a lawful manner while in this country.

"I have made that pledge to the American people and the will keep it," declared the lawyer.

Commissioner Cammett asked if Mrs. Pankhurst intended to preach militancy here.

"Empathically no," responded O'Neil. Secretary Wilson declared that he and the president had discussed the question before.

TWO WILSONS AGREED. Mrs. Pankhurst should be admitted on her own recognizance. My own reason is and the president's both likewise, that there is naturally an element of doubt as to whether her acts constitute moral turpitude or were political in character.

NAMED IN PHAGAN CASE BY FISHER, HE TREATS ACCUSATION AS JOKE

I. W. Fisher, Who Says He Knows Who Killed Mary Phagan

Mr. Shirley learned Monday from The Journal that Fisher had named him as the man, who talked to him the morning of the murder, saying that he had an engagement with Mary Phagan about noon of the day at the factory and who later told him he had not Mary and played "jail".

After an exclamation of surprise that he should be the principal of Fisher's story, Mr. Shirley remarked: "Why the man is crazy—a fit subject for any lunatic asylum."

Mr. Shirley declares that he knows Fisher quite well because the mysterious "witness" at one time lived in the house at 311 Marietta street, next to his furniture store, of which he was a customer.

"I can't understand why the man should have picked me out to name as the principal of his story," he said.

"So far as I know he has absolutely no reason to entertain any malice against me. He must be just crazy."

"So I am the prominent merchant in the case," laughed the furniture dealer.

"FISHER IS A LUNATIC AND HIS STORY IS PIPE DREAM, THAT NOBODY WILL BELIEVE"

Informed by The Journal That He Is the Man Named by Fisher as Having Had an Engagement to Meet Mary Phagan on the Day of Her Death in National Pencil Factory, Well Known Marietta Street Merchant Is Astonished and Amused

HE SAYS HE KNOWS FISHER, BUT CAN'T IMAGINE ANY REASON FOR HIS MENTIONING HIM IN PHAGAN CASE

His Full Story is Given Below—Frank's Attorneys Now Attach No Importance to Fisher's Tale—The Journal's Sweeping Investigation Reveals Man's History—Wife, Brother and Sister Don't Believe Him

J. C. SHIRLEY, well known and highly respected furniture dealer, of 809 Marietta street, the man named according to Birmingham dispatches, by I. W. Fisher as the principal of his sensational story about the Mary Phagan murder, treats the whole matter as a huge joke.

Mr. Shirley learned Monday from The Journal that Fisher had named him as the man, who talked to him the morning of the murder, saying that he had an engagement with Mary Phagan about noon of the day at the factory and who later told him he had not Mary and played "jail".

After an exclamation of surprise that he should be the principal of Fisher's story, Mr. Shirley remarked: "Why the man is crazy—a fit subject for any lunatic asylum."

Mr. Shirley declares that he knows Fisher quite well because the mysterious "witness" at one time lived in the house at 311 Marietta street, next to his furniture store, of which he was a customer.

"I can't understand why the man should have picked me out to name as the principal of his story," he said.

"So far as I know he has absolutely no reason to entertain any malice against me. He must be just crazy."

"So I am the prominent merchant in the case," laughed the furniture dealer.

"Why, I don't remember having seen Fisher since he left the house next door many months ago."

"Then he purchased quite a bit of furniture from me and was paying for it on time. When they used to go to store Mrs. Phagan took in boarders, some of whom remained after she had her trouble with her husband."

"Fisher was not meeting the payments on the furniture, so Mrs. Fisher came to me and said that she would make the payments if I transferred the title of the furniture to her, so that she could not come and take it away from her. I did this and she paid the full price of the furniture."

"This was my principal connection with the man, except that he used to loaf around the store a bit. I certainly can't see why he decided to name me."

Fisher said in his narration that he and Mr. Shirley delivered furniture at the Coleman home and both met Mary Phagan that way.

Mr. Shirley states that he knows Mrs. Coleman, Mary's mother, having sold her some small pieces of furniture, when both of them lived in East Point, but he doesn't remember the girl at all.

Frank Shirley, brother of the head of the furniture store, who also works there, states that he knew Mrs. Phagan and Mrs. Coleman, too.

He never delivered a load of furniture to them, however, in company with Fisher, he says.

THREATENS CRIMINAL PROSECUTION

While J. C. Shirley laughs at Fisher's accusations, his brother, Frank, is highly indignant at the man, and intimates that he will urge his brother to bring criminal proceedings against Fisher on the ground of malicious libel.

Frank Shirley states that he also knows Fisher, but not well. According to Birmingham dispatches, Fisher declares that he formerly worked for Mr. Shirley. The latter denies this, saying that he does not remember the man, even having given the man even odd jobs about the place.

Mr. Shirley called attention to the statement of Fisher that the mysterious principal had been furnishing him money to keep away from Atlanta.

"Well," remarked Frank Shirley, "he must have envelopes or cancelled checks or something to show for that."

J. C. Shirley expressed confidently his belief that by Monday night Fisher's story will be completely exploded, and so, he declared, he was not going to let it worry him.

"I have not been connected with the man in any of the ways he says," said Mr. Shirley, "and I can account for his story in no way except that he is a lunatic, and my name came to his head when he was telling the story."

The furniture man named by Fisher is doing a thriving business on Marietta street, and enjoys the confidence and respect of the people of the neighborhood as well as people generally over the city with whom he has been associated.

A number of neighbors spoke highly of him, declaring that he would be a wealthy man at this time had it not been for his kindness in extending unlimited credit to unfortunates.

Mr. Shirley talked about Fisher freely when told by The Journal that he had been named, and he said that he was willing to repeat his statements to any one who care to talk to him, or to Fisher himself.

GETS NEWS FROM JOURNAL

The first intimation that he had been named by Fisher as the principal of the story came to Mr. Shirley through The Journal.

At 1 o'clock Monday afternoon, when a Journal reporter called on the furniture dealer, he had not been interviewed since by investigators in the employ of the defense or by the city detectives.

The city authorities were given Mr. Shirley's name and address on Sunday afternoon at the office of Attorney Rosser, but up to 1 o'clock Monday they had made no effort to communicate with him nor was he being "shadowed."

THE JOURNAL'S REVELATIONS

Sweeping investigations by The Journal have brought to light every important fact in connection with I. W. Fisher and his sensational story about the Phagan murder. Through his Birmingham correspondent, The Journal secured the name of the man mentioned by Fisher. Through interviews with Mrs. Fisher, the wife, with Mrs. A. H. Stallings, his sister, who lives at 305 Houston street, and his brother, Marlon Fisher, of Rome, Fisher's life history was secured. Probation Officer Conner has added the man's police record. The full story in all of its varied features, is given below.

ROSSER AND ARNOLD ATTACH NO IMPORTANCE TO THE STORY NOW

Attorneys Luther Z. Rosser and Reuben P. Arnold on Monday gave out an additional statement relative to the I. W. Fisher story. "We attach no importance now to the story," the attorneys said. "And would have quietly investigated it had it not been for the un-

POLICE RECORD OF I. W. FISHER IS REVEALED BY PROBATION OFFICER

The record kept by Probation Officer Cogger of I. W. Fisher shows that he was arrested four times for wife-beating, twice put on probation, once bound over to the grand jury, and the last time jailed on a peace warrant served out by Mrs. Fisher, following which he left Atlanta last April. The record starts with November of last year. It shows that Fisher is now thirty-five years of age and has a wife and two children living.

WIFE SAYS MAN IS IRRESPONSIBLE; SISTER DOES NOT BELIEVE HIM

Ira W. Fisher, who declares that Leo M. Frank is innocent of the murder of Mary Phagan, Sunday afternoon last April 1914, when he was arrested for wife beating and stamped in jail until April 10, when he was freed on his own bond. He returned to his wife, but on May 15 was held before a justice of the peace on a peace warrant issued by Mrs. Fisher. He was recommitted to jail, staying there two days when he was let out on his promise to leave Atlanta. He did so, the last word being heard from him in Parkersville, Tenn., from which place he wrote to Probation Officer Cogger asking me to look up his trunk for him. Mr. Cogger had had several letters from Fisher since that time.

tional building, she fled just for divorce and alimony for the support of their two children. Fisher heard of this, she said, and on August 12, before papers could be served on him, left. "Since that time she has taken boarders, and worked at dressmaking, she said.

Soon after Fisher left, his wife said, she had a letter from Parkville, Tenn., and on September 5 she had another letter from him at Avondale, Ala., a suburb of Birmingham. Fisher wanted to return and live with her, she said. "He wrote to me, but I didn't write to him," said his wife. "I felt that I couldn't live with him again."

"I'm afraid of him," said Mrs. Fisher when told that her husband was in Atlanta. "I'm afraid he'll kill me. He has tried to steal the children and has threatened my life." "Are you sure that he's locked up?" she asked frantically. "I'm afraid, I'm afraid, I'm going to my sisters, I'm afraid to stay here."

"The next Sunday morning," she went on, "just after breakfast we went to the drag store (about a block away). On the way back we met a man I didn't know," she said. "I saw something to tell you." Mr. Fisher stopped and I went on to the house. Mr. Fisher soon came on home and told me that the man had told him a girl had been killed at the pencil factory.

"Later, when I was reading about the case in the paper, I saw a picture of Mullinax. This looks like the man you met Sunday morning," I told Mr. Fisher, but he didn't answer. "That afternoon he suggested that we go to the pencil factory. We went with our little girl Evelyn, and Lillian Moore, a young woman who was boarding with us then. Mr. Fisher didn't seem nervous.

Fisher Sticks to His Story; Frank Lawyers Isolate Him Shield Name of Accused

Three years ago, she said, moved to Marietta a few years later, and lived there until three years ago when they moved to Atlanta.

Relations grew so strained, she said, that finally on August 11, through an attorney named Lewis, whose office is in the Fourth National building, she filed suit for divorce and alimony for the support of their two children.

She wrote to me, but I didn't write to him," said his wife. "I'm afraid of him," said Mrs. Fisher when told that her husband was in Atlanta.

Mr. Fisher said that at the time of the Phagan murder her husband was employed at the Gate City Coffee factory.

The next Monday morning, she went on, "just after breakfast we went to the drug store about a block away.

"I don't know the Phagan girl," she said, "but I did know it."

17 SOLDIERS KILLED IN WRECK OF TROOP TRAIN

Many Others Hurt—Three Coaches Demolished in Mississippi Sunday

MOBILE, Ala., Oct. 20.—A total of seventeen bodies killed in the wreck of the special troop train on the Mobile and Ohio railroad near Buckatanna, Miss., Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, when the engine's tender and express car and three wooden passenger coaches crashed through the ribs Burrows trestle sixty-four miles from this city, had been recovered by the time this morning arrived in Mobile up to 2:30 this morning and several more are reported to be still in the derailed.

LOOKS LIKE BATTLE FIELD

The scene at the morgue this morning resembled more a battle field than a death house, parts of the bodies being strewn about on the floor and tables.

The correct and full names of those of the dead will not be obtainable until they are properly prepared. Those dead who are claimed by relatives will be turned over to them by the government, and the others will be interred in one of the national cemeteries.

Perhaps the most touching feature of the relief train is the fact that the relief train arrived at the station at 10 o'clock this morning, and did not leave until 11 o'clock this morning. The train was composed of a car with a freight car with a number of the bodies.

REWARD A HERO

Brigade surgeon, hospital steward, who was with the company, was the one of the men who was most commended by the government, and the others will be interred in one of the national cemeteries.

Wreck Caused by Tender Jumping Track

When the news reached the newspaper office in Atlanta about 2 o'clock Sunday morning that the mysterious Mr. Fisher, the then unnamed witness in the Fisher murder case, was en route to Atlanta from Birmingham, several automobiles full of reporters, started out to Atlanta to meet the train.

As they clambered up the steep, slippery and muddy bank there was a flash of lightning and they saw behind them "Ye Gods!" jointly exclaimed the two reporters and the chauffeur. "We have tried to ford the Chattahoochee," and the three of them started on the right side like bats to the lights of Atlanta.

Chamberlin-Johnson-DuBose Co. ATLANTA NEW YORK PARIS Chamberlin-Johnson-DuBose Co.

We Drive a Nail and Hang a Fact on It

We are just entering the busiest season of the whole year---which is another way of saying, that the time of the year has come when the good people in and about Atlanta are going to spend large sums for their own furnishings and for their homes, larger perhaps than in many years.

It is well to stop a moment and consider how and where YOU are going to spend YOUR money.

The finances of the country are in a healthy condition, things are "looking up" throughout America.

In this section of the south they are "looking up" very high.

This means that manufacturers are taxed to meet the great demands of a great nation able and out to buy whatever it wants.

Right merchandise is hard to get at right prices.

It is the old principle of supply and demand still working away as old principles have a habit of doing.

For we do not think any one will deny that these are the present day conditions.

And when conditions are such, then are merchants put to test.

This is the sharp pointed nail that is easy to drive.

And yet we hear much right now about bargains, about tremendous savings, about cut prices, about great sales.

How is it possible?

Here we are working away with a vengeance, striving with all the means that this long established organization has acquired, to gather into our store merchandise that measures up to our standard of what it ought to be for the price.

It is taking all our time, all our energy, all our ingenuity to find such merchandise.

And we leave this waist store, as we present it this season, to her good taste.

Test this out.

The Millinery

No store in the South---very few in America outside of New York---has the millinery organization that we have.

Through our connection with Estelle Mershon, 20 East Forty-sixth street, New York, the styles that bloom in Paris one week are in Atlanta a few days after the next week, and, happily, at Atlanta prices.

Test this out.

The Silks

A season of silks! The Chamberlin-Johnson-DuBose Co. Silk Store has expanded its stocks, not only to meet these greater demands, but to take its position as a guide to the women of Atlanta.

The stocks are authoritative in that they are varied and inclusive of all that the silk masters have evolved.

Test this out.

The Knit Underwear

The first rule for picking daisies, we understand, is to go where daisies are.

And the markets of the world are open to us.

And we have never yet failed to prove to Atlanta that we were alive to every opportunity that presented itself.

And we are rather happily reputed for giving genuine bargains in our sales which come just as often as we can work them out truthfully and genuinely---but no often.

Now, let's hang up a fact.

We will not be tempted in this sudden rush of busy-ness to forget the principles that underlie the Chamberlin-Johnson-DuBose Co. way of doing things. As long as our efforts are centered on getting worthy merchandise at a fair price, we will not claim that we can sell worthy merchandise under price.

But we do say that we have succeeded most admirably this season in putting several huge and solid stones in the structure of public confidence that we have been building up here in Atlanta these many, many years. We have gathered stocks that we are proud of, friend-making stocks, that stand the one hundred cents to the dollar test. And it is in this spirit that we invite you to our store; invite you to make comparisons, to use your own judgment, to decide for yourself whether these one hundred cents to the dollar values are or are not better than the hundred twenty five cents to the dollar "bargains" that you have spread before you so boldly.

We are full of confidence---it is an effect. We have been put to the test, we have succeeded, succeeded this season better than we ever have (the shades of many fine years pass before us as we write.) It is rather remarkable what a good strong fight will accomplish.

And now let your good judgment come in to guide you in your purchases.

The same is true of gathering a fine stock of knit underwear.

We went wherever good knit underwear was to be found.

We did not confine our selection to any one or two mills.

We chose from this mill its best, from that mill its best, and so on.

Now Atlanta women may choose the best that is made.

Test this out.

The Blankets

The blanket stock---where things are what they are!

We reason along these lines about blankets---after getting as fine values as are to be got (at every price) why should we practice any other method than to tell our customers what is in this blanket and what is in that blanket?

A contrary statement would not change matters in the least.

And as we have every confidence in the genuine worth of every pair of blankets we own, we are willing to have them judged by what we say they are.

Test this out.

IF MEALS HIT BACK AND STOMACH SOURS

"Pape's Diapepsin" ends stomach misery, indigestion in 5 minutes

If what you just ate is souring on your stomach or lies like a lump of lead, refusing to digest, or you have a sick or a feeling of heaviness, heartburn, flatulency, nausea, bad taste in the mouth and stomach headaches, you get blessed relief in five minutes by Pape's Diapepsin. It is a powerful stomachic, it shows you the way to relief, it makes you feel better, it restores your appetite, it restores your stomach to its normal state, it restores your health, it restores your vitality, it restores your energy, it restores your strength, it restores your vigor, it restores your life.

What Anne Rittenhouse Says

Women may just as well accept the low neck for the street because the fashion is established. Big the acceptance will be accompanied by discretion.

Only the young woman can wear a neckline turn-over collar with a rough coat that has a turn-over collar of its own.

It is an uncomfortable fact that the adoption of each suit for the day is a time when few shirt-waists have collars and all grown up without them.

It is a woman's prerogative that she should be able to wear a neck piece that she can easily make for herself several times over.

There are certain kinds of coats which are made of soft materials and without high collars at the back that allow one to wear that kind of shirt waist which is cut low in front and is fastened with a standing ruche along the edge.

Prof. Whitney testified that the vital organs of the admiral's body were "permeated" with arsenic. He found a total of 1.47 grains of the poison, 1.04 grains to a hypothetical question asked by District Attorney Barker at the suggestion of Judge Aiken, the witness said that the discovery would indicate that the poison had been taken in more than one dose.

The cotton was irregular, the prices months showing a gain of 31 to 45 points over Saturday's market. They now went to a level 25 to 42 cents up, before profit-taking by longs became heavy upon a surge to recession.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—President Wilson stated definitely to his callers today that he expected a report to the senate on the currency bill by the first week in November at the latest and the passage of the measure within three weeks thereafter.

Mr. Wilson says he has been assured by several members of the senate committee on banking and currency that a unanimous report is not so unlikely, and that the members are not but are discussing the details of the bill.
