Thaw slept well during the second night of his detention in the Mondnock house. Four attorneys were present outside his door throughout the night, others paced about the corridors around the building.

Talk of a riot and counter plots to kidnap him continued today and every time a patrolman was sent to the street with muffled open the guards tightened their grip on their pistols.

MRS. GODBEE'S STORY TOLD ON THE STAND

Dramatic Story of Defendant in Famous Case Holds Attention of Jurors and Spectators in Court

Mrs. Godbee took the witness stand for her own behalf late yesterday afternoon and made a remarkable statement that held the crowded court-room breathless. She told the man she later killed, going into every detail. She told of extreme cruelty to which she said she had been subjected by Godbee and cited instances where she declared, he had beaten, choked and otherwise mistreated her. She said that Godbee had killed her younger brother during their early married life and that she had furnished the money with which he earned an acquittal before a jury by proving self defense. She noted that Godbee had despoiled her fortune and tricked her out of valuable property inherited from her mother and father.

Beginning with her father's death in 1887, the woman told of her marriage less than a month later to Godbee who purchased the mercantile business of her parent in Perkins county. Soon after the ceremony, the witness said, her husband began to obtain from her the property which she had inherited at her father's death.

Year by year she went through her life, citing alleged instances where she said she was gradually despoiled of her inheritance and the property which she later acquired at her husband's death. She related her whole life, telling of instances where, she said, Godbee had plotted against her, until at the time she killed him he was in possession of all her property.

DELAVERS HUSBAND CRUEL.
Godbee killed her brother, she said, two hours after he had kissed her goodbye one morning to go to the post-office in Perkins, which he conducted, and left her with a promise not to take seriously anything the youth said. She declared that on one occasion she had compelled her to work at a housekeeper's wage. For a month, in a hotel in Milton bought with her money. She said that on one occasion she had awakened in the night to find Godbee bending over her with a gun in his hands. On another he choked her, she said, and she told of an alleged attempt of the dead man to install a negro woman in her home over her protests.

The three children were the only connection between Mrs. Godbee and her husband during the major portion of her married life, she said. She told of several separations, but no reconciliations on account of these ties.

HER FRIENDS SHOCKED.
Mrs. Godbee told of moving to Atlanta several years ago. They lived in a house at 28 Piedmont avenue, she said. It was a dilapidated place, and presently had been occupied by disreputable people. My friends came from Milton. They were shocked at my surroundings.

"The week after we took up our residence," she said, "Mrs. McKinnon, who lived across the street, came to see me and told me that she had borne a child. She learned who it was. Often we were forced to live on an empty stomach."
"I conferred with friends about returning home. They prevailed upon

Judge Godbee to come to an agreement with me. One day when I told him I was going home, Mr. Godbee immediately went uptown and instituted divorce proceedings. I told him that I would not contest the suit if he would concede to me the custody of the children.

"We became reconciled, however, before the case came to a trial and returned to Milton. When he got back here Mr. Godbee became dangerously addicted to the use of morphine. He constantly made threats. My sons advised me to leave him. Finally he notified me that he would renew his divorce suit. He later asked me to institute the proceedings this time."

nothing of each other. Then, one day Mr. Davis of Augusta, came to me and told me that Judge Godbee loved me more than he loved life itself. On account of the children, I consented to another reunion.

Mrs. Godbee told that after her former husband returned to Milton she got nine anonymous letters threatening her life. She declared, also, that the three Mrs. Godbee met the judge through a matrimonial advertisement and that the two had never seen each other until the day of their marriage.

ARMED FOR PROTECTION.
"Speaking of the tragedy," Mrs. Godbee said, "I went to my room, gentlemen, that when I left for the postoffice that morning I did not intend to hurt Judge Godbee. I carried my pistol merely for protection. As I was writing at a rest in the office, I suddenly glanced up to see Judge Godbee near me."

"When our eyes met, his face blanched white as a sheet. He bled around, saying something to me in an undertone. He started for the door and then, as if acting on an impulse, he turned, took a step toward me, and as he reached his hand for his hip pocket, called me a vile name."

"I remember shooting—that's all. It was done to keep him from shooting me. I don't know how many shots I fired when I came to myself. My pistol would shoot any more. I don't recall shooting the woman—I never intended to. The only way she could have been struck was by getting within range of the bullets as she went out through the door."

"Gentlemen, I had had been for my country and from England to appear in the trial of Mrs. Godbee, because I have a daughter-in-law, Mrs. Godbee, and I know what it is to love."

THEATER-OPENING NIGHT AT PIEDMONT ON MONDAY

Coming of Oysters and Theatrical Season to Be Marked by Venetian Gaieties

With a five-piece orchestra in attendance and two operatic stars on the program the Piedmont hotel will herald the opening of the "after theater season" Monday evening with its first concert sight of the year, a celebration not unlike the New Year's eve innovation December 31, 1912.

The doors of the main dining room, which will be beautifully decorated for the occasion, will open at 10 p. m. and by 11 o'clock the gaities will be on in full swing.

Not only will the Piedmont's new orchestra for the season be introduced, but the celebration will mark the formal opening of the hotel's oyster season, that has been delayed owing to the extremely hot weather during the early part of the first "after theater" month.

As was the case when the Piedmont opened the way for the New Year's celebration, guests in order to secure a place during the festivities, must first apply for table reservations. These can be had on application to Assistant Restaurant Manager E. Frank Taylor, or to the steward, E. R. J. Fitchel. No persons will be admitted without a card.

The new orchestra that makes its bow to Atlanta for the first time Monday evening comes here from the east and is composed of the best talent that was here last year. The same one that was here last year.

It is the intention of the management to make the occasion an epitome of the carnival spirit of old Venice and those who had tables on the last day of December, 1912, know better what to expect than most others.

Attractive souvenirs will be placed at every table. Home made and substantial devices of every description will be distributed to the artist in finishing the event a merry and delightful one.

FREDERICK HALL PLAYS ORGAN HERE ON SUNDAY

Frederick Hall organist of historic Christ church, Philadelphia, and one of the best known choir masters of that city, is in Atlanta, and will be the soloist at the free organ concert Sunday afternoon at the auditorium, under the auspices of the American Music Festival association to hold a session in connection with the festival in Philadelphia, and is arranging a brilliant program for his Atlanta appearance.

Mr. Hill is one of the organists who have come from various parts of this country and from England to appear in the trial of Mrs. Godbee, because I have a daughter-in-law, Mrs. Godbee, and I know what it is to love."

Southern district headquarters have been established in Atlanta by the Pittsfield and Everett company of Maryland. Colonel Henry M. Hutton, of Baltimore, has arrived to inaugurate the work of the new headquarters and to continue in charge of it as manager. His office will be at 212 Chandler building.

Colonel Hutton states that he will establish in every Georgia town where a national bank is located and where there is no agency another agency of his company. Later he will bring to Atlanta an auditor, and other district officials, in order to make this southern division of his company one of the strongest in the country.

He believes that the south is entering a great era of prosperity and that there is a valuable crop in the southeastern states soon to be harvested. He says that the south has a fine outlook for the near future.

According to the petition in the case, Olson agreed to contribute $1,000 to the fund and paid $125 on it. When demand was made later for other payments he would not make them and suit was brought to secure the money for the Y. M. C. A. fund.

MORELAND AVENUE WILL HAVE SCHOOL BY OCT. 1

Every Effort Being Made by School Authorities to Relieve Congestion Promptly

Following a conference with the principal of the Edgewood Avenue, Highland Avenue and Inman Park schools Thursday afternoon William M. Slaton, superintendent of schools, announced that the new Moreland Avenue school would be completed by October 1 and ready for occupancy. While the building is only large enough to accommodate five grades, it will serve to relieve the crowded conditions in the other schools in the immediate territory.

Mr. Slaton said that he regretted the building was not large enough for a complete grammar school, as there were enough children in the Edgewood, Inman Park and Highland districts to fill one completely.

At the English Avenue school, where forty-two pupils still are unseated, the contingency has been temporarily solved by allowing the children in the first grades but a half-day session. Half of the number attend class in the morning and the other half in the afternoon.

More desks have been ordered and when they come about three weeks from now will be installed in the school basement for the establishment of a new first grade class, and also to relieve the congestion and take away with the half-day sessions.

At the office of Robert Adamson, the mayor's secretary, and at the City Hall, Mrs. Gwyn and her children are reported to be bearing their loss with fortitude.

The dead mayor's friends recalled today a paragraph he wrote in a letter to his sister several years ago in which he said: "I want to live long enough to see the city of Atlanta in a better state than it is now. No one will do it. I said to myself, that is not true, and it is true now. No one who contemplates the immensity of Almighty God and His un-

The chief executive and to take in hand the city government, construed by the mayor's sudden taking off.

The recent resignation of John Purroy Mitchell, now candidate for mayor, from the presidency of the board of aldermen, and the sudden elevation of Mr. Klutz, vice chairman of the board to the mayor's chair, has led to that body without a leader.

The new mayor, a Republican who will serve until a successor, to be chosen at the coming November election, is inaugurated on January 1. In the meantime, the board of aldermen, "in as far as I know them," and to make no changes in appointive officials. None of these officials, it was believed today, would leave in their resignation.

Messages of condolence from all parts of the country continued to pour in today at the office of Robert Adamson, the mayor's secretary, and at the City Hall. Mrs. Gwyn, Long Island, where Mrs. Gwyn and her children are reported to be bearing their loss with fortitude.

Ship Docks at Queenstown With Body of Mr. Gaynor

QUEENSTOWN, Sept. 12.—Mayor Gaynor's death was the one topic of discussion among the passengers on the steamship Baltic when the vessel reached Queenstown early today, but they had learned no further details than contained in Hurfus Gaynor's message yesterday to the Associated Press, which he said he had his father's spirit written seated in a chair just before the luncheon hour on Wednesday afternoon.

The mayor's body, which has been taken in charge by ship's officers, after being embalmed and placed in a steel casket was placed in the ship's mortuary room. It was expected that a transfer would be made to the Louisiana would be made in Liverpool later today. The Louisiana is due in New York a week from today.

Politics Dazed

From the weight developments in the complicated majority situation emerged but slowly and assumed no more tangible form than opinions voiced by various political leaders as to the effect which the mayor's sudden removal would have upon the election of November 4.

In some quarters it was held that the situation was very much simplified. It is shown that the political situation which the leaders confronted today with Tammany and anti-Tammany forces asserting that the elimination of the mayor would swing votes to their respective candidates, Chairman Edward C. McCall, of the public service commission, and John Purroy Mitchell, collector of the port.

Predicted on the assumption that the Gaynor supporters will give up their claims entirely, Tammany is expected to lead half, and possibly two-thirds of the mayor's support will pass to McCall.

The fact that Purroy Mitchell has asserted three-quarters of the mayor's vote would be drawn from Mitchell's own nominee.

The Tammany leaders declare that the issue is now clarified between Tammany Hall and Fusion, the effect of which will be strongly to the advantage of the fusion candidate.

Both of the candidates opposing the mayor pay tribute to his memory in ex-

Atlanta New York Paris

The Store Will Be Open All Day Saturday We Are Pleased to Announce That We Have Secured the Atlanta Agency for the Justly Celebrated Madame Irene Corset

Ever on the alert to better our service, to give our customers the best and most satisfactory merchandise the markets of the world afford we have taken another and notable step in the right direction by securing the agency for Madame Irene Corsets.

Madame Irene, the maker of Madame Irene Corsets, is rather generally conceded to be America's most potent corset style factor. She spends half of her time in Paris, and there she sees and studies with the eyes and mind of a genius, the styles as they are evolved, nothing that is worthy escapes—and Paris is the home of the artistic corset.

And then she brings these ideas to America and gives us the styles and beauty of the Paris corset in models built for the American woman. The result is that Madame Irene today is the ranking maker of what we might term the finer corsets—...and so Madame Irene Corsets come to Chamberlin-Johnson-DuBose Co.

That they show style points that have not yet been put into other corsets, that they are exquisitely and sturdily made, that they are designed along lines that mean at once comfort and poise are points that a visit to our corset section right now will very happily and quickly prove.

Some of the marks of Madame Irene distinction this season are-- Elastic corsets with no bones and an inch and a half height of bust. Tricot corsets with two bones and very long skirt. Silk brocade corsets with free hips. Silk brocade corsets with elastic lacing over the abdomen and tricot gussets over the hips.

Madame Irene Corsets may be had in models for every figure and now before the suits and dresses for fall are bought is the time to get the model best for you. They are priced from

The Junior Department Third Floor Answers READY With Suits and Dresses of Distinction for the Young Folk

The first days of school and the first days of the new styles—these are absorbing days for young Miss Atlanta. But tomorrow is Saturday, the first Saturday of the school year, and the best for a thoroughly fine time in Miss Atlanta's own store, the Chamberlin-Johnson-DuBose Co., Junior Department (Third Floor.)

There are new suits to be seen. There are new dresses to be seen. There are new coats to be seen. And the new implies much.

In the Suits it stands for the charmingest little styles that we have ever shown—coats that are cutaway in just as decided a fashion as ever a grown-up's was; coats with drooping shoulders and mandarin sleeves, with sashes in the back; fur trimmed coats; skirts drape with all grace and much novelty, and skirts even showing the peg top effect. These are worked out in cloths, in basket weaves, in poplins, in mixture weaves and in serges. Terra cotta is a favored color, and "pig skin," brown and certain shades of blue. Priced from $15.00 to $40.00.

In the Dresses Here are the practical and fine Peter Thompson, the Camp Fire Dresses and the novel Bohemian dresses, with their sashes of solid plaids. Then the more "dressed up" dresses of wool crepe and silk crepe de chine, with waists showing net vests and trimmings of buttons and braids and with skirts usually draped in one way or another—these in rose, turquoise, brown, terra cotta and navy. Priced from $10.00 to $25.00.

In the Coats There is one style after another that must be dubbed jaunty—it is sometimes a matter of the length, but generally of the richness and beauty of the plaids, the mixture weaves and the brocades. Blues, tans, browns and, of course, black. They are three-quarter and full length and priced from $17.50 to $40.00. But to read the facts is not so interesting as seeing what the Junior Department has to show—so make of tomorrow a "seeing day"—and profit thereby.

TERRIBLE ITCHING WITH RINGWORM

On Children's Scalps, Hair Fell Out in Round Spots, Scratched Till Blood Came, Cuticura Soap and Ointment Cured.

1544 Alegha St., Baltimore, Md. "My children were afflicted with what they called ringworm of the scalp contracted from a housecat they were playing with. The ringworm formed on their scalps about the size of a silver dollar and their hair fell out, leaving a round scale or crust on their scalps. They had fallen out in round spots. There was terrible itching and they scratched till the blood came. They were very fretful and could not sleep at night and they were very cross.

They were treated for several months with no improvement whatsoever. At length I was told they were getting worse and the ringworm was spreading and getting larger. I was told they would never have any hair and would always be bald. Then I bought Cuticura Soap and Ointment and Cuticura Ointment and used them for a moment and all they were claimed to do and in six weeks' time they were entirely cured. My second Mrs. Sadie Pollock, Jan. 1, 1913. Cuticura Soap and Ointment. PORTER CHARLTON JAILED IN ITALY

Trial of Young American May Go Over to April-May Plead Insanity

By Associated Press. COMO, Italy, Sept. 12.—Dr. Sala, part of whose duties consists of a visit to prisoners in the Como jail every two weeks, today examined Porter Charlton, an young American.

Dr. Sala said it would be necessary to make a further examination of the prisoner before he could express definite opinion concerning his mental and physical condition. Charlton, however, says perfectly well and he eats and sleeps regularly.

Dispatches from the United States have stated that Charlton's defense would include an allegation of insanity. A large memorandum outlining the facts is now in the hands of the court and will probably go over until April.

ATLANTA—"The Merry Countess." FORETHT—"Yandeville." LYTIC—"The Call of the Heart." GRAND—"Kismet." S.W.—"My Dixie Girl."

"The Merry Countess" will be the attraction at the Lyric Friday and Saturday matinee and night. Twenty years ago the seductive strains of "Joan's" music were heard in the city. The play is a literary light on the other side, furnished the lyrics. Altogether this combination has proved quite the most irresistible and tempting musical production of the current season and will continue to remain in the repertoire for some time to come. An orchestra of eleven will play the music.

Your more performances at the Lyric this week will register the last of the current season. The Lyric will have to witness one of the strongest musical productions of the current season. The dedication of the house to this play.

Frank Hall and Lee Patterson, in their classic, graceful dances, have proven to be one of the strongest drawing cards of the season. The Lyric has been disappointed, for there is no such artistic charm to the Lyric and Lyric try dances as performed by these clever people.

Next week's bill promises to be the equal in every respect of the offering now on. Ida Brooks Hunt and her company, all late of "The Chocolate Soldier" company, will present an operetta, entitled "The Singing Countess," and formed Hahn and a selected company, will offer "How Morfmorster Did It."

A feature will be the appearance of the Big City Four, probably the most popular singing quartet yet seen in Atlanta, and Madame Benson and her company present "The Woman Who Knew," the most interesting sketch in modern vaudeville.

One of the best attractions to be seen this season is due here next week at the Lyric theater, when Arthur G. Jones' excellent company, headed by Itha Williams and Edwin Walter, will be seen in Owen Davis' latest success, "A Man's Game."

The play is said to possess not only artistic, but also a high degree of ability to truly portray the exciting character of Venice Mayo, as depicted by Miss Williams.

There will be just three more opportunities to witness the remarkably clever play, "The Call of the Heart," this week at the Lyric. For the thinking and intelligent theatergoer, however, for those who would rather see a good play than a merely a good one, by song and dance, this week's attraction undoubtedly will make a strong appeal. The story of "The Call of the Heart" is interesting, the company excellent throughout and the stage setting complete in every detail. In fact, it is a performance that should draw out the best of Atlanta this week after another in the Lyric.

Patrons of the Lyric have voted this week's play, "My Dixie Girl," the most entertaining play that has been put on by the Jewell Kelley company, and splendid audiences have been the rule of the week. "My Dixie Girl" will hold the stage of the Lyric for the balance of the week, with matinees every afternoon at 2:30, and evening performances at 8:30. For next week, the management announces a big sensational melodrama, "The Man of Mystery." Mark Swann's thrilling detective story dealing with the operations of a notorious band of New York thieves that baffled the detective force of the great city for many years, until Ned Keene, the famous detective known as "Lucifer" on the force, was put on the trail of the gang, and finally drove them from their den, "The Devil's Kitchen," in an out-of-the-way shack on the East river. The play is a beautiful stirring and sensational incident and should make one of the best attractions that the Jewell Kelley company has in its repertoire.

BOESCHENSTEIN SEES PROGRESS ERA AHEAD

National Democratic Committeeman Marvels at Atlanta's Growth Since Last Visit

Charles Boeschstein, national Democratic committeeman from Illinois, and probable candidate for the United States senate next year to succeed Republican Senator Sherman, of that state, was a visitor to Atlanta Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Boeschstein came south to enter their daughter at the Lyric college, Gainesville. The young lady is a talented musician and has become a pupil in the Lyric conservatory, which Mr. Boeschstein says he has found, after careful investigation, to be one of the foremost institutions of the kind in the United States.

Mr. Boeschstein declares that President Wilson's administration has made good with a rush and that as a result the Democratic party has an added strength throughout the country. He predicts that the passage of the tariff and currency bills will speedily bring about a prosperous business era.

Not since 1888 has Mr. Boeschstein visited the south. He marvels at the wonderful development and growth of this section and especially was he impressed with the progress which has been made by the city of Atlanta.

While in Atlanta, Mr. Boeschstein was a guest of Clark Howell, national committeeman from Georgia, and Governor Blanton.

THICK, GLOSSY HAIR FREE FROM DANDRUFF

Girls! Try it! Your hair gets soft, fluffy and luxuriant at once.

If you care for heavy hair, that glitters with beauty and is radiant with life, has an incomparable softness and is fluffy and lustrous, try Dandruff. Just one application restores the beauty of your hair, besides it immediately dissolves every particle of dandruff; you cannot have nice, heavy, healthy hair unless you have dandruff. This destructive agent robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life, and if not overcome it produces a feverishness and itching of the scalp; the hair roots become loosened and die; then the hair falls out.

If your hair has been neglected and is faded, dry, scrappy or too oily, get a 25-cent bottle of Knowledge Dandruff at any drug store or toilet counter; apply a little and directed in ten minutes after you will say this was the best investment you ever made. We sincerely believe, regardless of everything else advertised, that if you desire soft, lustrous, wavy hair and lots of it—no dandruff—no itching scalp and no more falling hair—you must use Knowledge's Dandruff. It eventually why not now?

LIPTON SURE SHAMROCK WORLD'S FASTEST BOAT

In Receiving Acceptance of Challenge, Englishman Compliments Those Who Will Build American Boat

By the late of West, Sept. 12.—The race conditions for the America's cup were received by Sir Thomas Lipton on board his yacht Erin. Speaking at a dinner aboard the yacht last night, he congratulated the fact to the guests, who included the committee and members of the international motorboat races. Sir Thomas said that it took nearly seven months to arrange the contest, and he was more than pleased that it was to race under any conditions with a ninety or a seventy-five-footer. He continued, "I had to be careful not to agree to terms that would impose any burden on the victor of the water." Referring to the announcement that Cornelius Vanderbilt, J. P. Morgan and Frederick G. Bourne formed the syndicate to build the America's defender, Sir Thomas said: "Three better representatives of such class sport cannot be found in the world."

Sir Thomas expressed the belief that Nicholson, who is building the Shamrock IV, was the finest designer in the world, and that Burton, who will command the challenger, knew how to steer to victory. Nicholson was getting on well with the Shamrock and, although it would be the first boat built by Britain under American racing rules, whereas the Americans had been building for ten years, would be sure to hold its own.

Speaker Best At Fielding

Although Pitcher Nick Cullip, former of the Bristol team of the Appalachian league, but who went to the big show from the New Britain Falcons of the Southern league, has been called upon to pitch but three full games for the Cleveland Naps, he has fully demonstrated to Manager Joe Minton and the Cleveland fans that he has "the stuff," to use a common phrase, and that nothing can keep him out of his regular turn as a member of the Naps' pitching staff in 1914. "Cullip is a bit too nervous to go in the box in a pinch," said Joe Jackson recently, "but if given a show at regular work he is destined to make good."

BERNHARD SURE TO GO AS MEMPHIS MANAGER

Memphis Owner Wants Dobbs or Finn to Pilot 1914 Turbles or To Pass Up Most of the Present Club

Big Bill Bernhard, who has guided the destinies of the Memphis ball club for the past three seasons, will be retained from the management when his contract expires October 1, according to an announcement made yesterday by President Frank R. Coleman. Either Johnnie Dobbs or Mike Finn, until yesterday respective managers of the Montgomery and Mobile clubs, will be named as successor to Bernhard. There are other applicants for the position, but it is a certainty that the choice lies between Dobbs and Finn, who offers the most attractive proposition in the form of major league connections.

Alpha, Ga., Sept. 12, 1913. Atlanta Journal, Atlanta, Ga. Dear Sir: I would like to know where Fline Wilson is from, the fellow that beat Mobile in their last game with New Orleans. Hoping you give me this information. I remain, Yours respectfully, A. SUBSCHERER.

Players Should Be GOLF Sane At All Times

Another case where many players display themselves before they have won two holes is in the mere matter of counting with the rules of the score. Where no official marker or score accompanied the players each player should provide himself with a score card and keep accurate check on his score. Here is the rule, as simple as it is easy to understand.

THE RULE.—(1) The score for each hole shall be kept by a marker or by each competitor setting the rules of the score. More than one marker keep a score, each shall sign the part of the score which he is responsible. (2) The score should be called out after each hole, on completion of the stipulated round the card shall be signed by the person who has made it, and the competitor shall see that it is handed in as soon as reasonably possible. (3) The penalty for breach of this rule shall be disqualification.

Farmer Rejoices In Billies Win

Bilbwin, Co., Ga., Sept. 12, 1913. Editor The Journal.—Please tell Billie Smith that even a hard-worked Georgia farmer who hasn't seen a game of ball this season rejoices over his wonderful victory. Efficiency and excellence speak to me and that's what made Billie and his team uphold the Atlanta Braves. A cheer for Billie! A cheer for Atlanta, and one for Georgia's next sporter. J. R. NORBERT.

LOOK IN W. L. Douglas's store windows and you will see shoes for $3.50, $4.00 and $4.50 that are just as good in style, fit and wear as other makes costing $8.00 to $7.00. The only difference is the price. Shoes in all leather, styles and shapes to suit everybody. If you could visit W. L. Douglas's large factories at Brockton, Mass., and see for yourself how carefully W. L. Douglas's shoes are made, you would then understand why they are warranted to fit better, look better, hold their shape and wear longer than any other make for the price.

POULTRY, PIGEONS AND LIVE STOCK

Conditioning Birds for Exhibition

As many poultry shows are close at hand the birds should be selected and conditioned for exhibition purposes. Many old birds have few feathers that they have not thrown out or shed, and these feathers should be removed so that new ones can come in their place.

After your birds have thoroughly molted, a few days before exhibition they should be washed thoroughly and given plenty of time to dry out before shipping to the show. The washing of birds requires skill and science to do a good job.

There will be many exhibitions this year throughout the entire south. These exhibitions are offering every season better inducements for the breeder who is willing to do a good job.

JOURNAL WANT AD Horoscope

SEPTEMBER 12. The principal fault of this birthdate is the desire to rule and dominate other people.

They are "reformers" and like to tell people the most disagreeable thing and they always declare that they are right.

An astrological horoscope points out the features of the lives of people and it is impossible to advance or proffer unless knowledge of self is honest.

DON'T BURN YOUR LIVER

Take Ea-Tone, The Great Vegetable Liver Laxative and Tonic

Don't burn your liver with deadly mineral medicines, that force unnatural action and abnormal stimulation for a short time, the reaction of which is harmful and dangerous.

Take a remedy from nature's garden, a purely vegetable compound—Ea-Tone, the great liver laxative and tonic. It builds up and nature's own way, stimulates the liver to healthy action, takes impurities out of the blood, does not over tax heart action, removes jaundice and blotch from the skin, puts rich, red blood in the veins, establishes normal capacity of the liver, right and 95 per cent of the ill, paine and discomforts of life vanish. The liver is the fountain head of the organo system—if polluted, the entire system suffers. If treated with harsh remedies it becomes calloused and inactive. Take Ea-Tone, the world's great vegetable compound—scientific, perfectly harmless and absolutely guaranteed liver laxative and tonic. Large bottles 25¢ everywhere, or address Ea-Tone Manufacturing Company, 7 Hill St., Atlanta, Ga. (Advt.)

Lack of Data Delayed Matters—Hearing Held Before Special Master

Because certain data were lacking, the proceedings leading up to the foreclosure sale of the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic railroad under Judge (Judge's) orders from United States court, have been held up until October 7, by which date it is expected that the auditor's department will have furnished them.

For two days past the matter has been in hearing before Special Master V. L. Smith, appointed to conduct the sale, as to what proportion of the $5,000,000 indebtedness assumed by the receiver should be distributed among the three properties of the road—the road property, the Georgia Terminal company and the Alabama Terminal company. The receiver is the Georgia Railway Trust company of Boston, representing the bondholders, and attorneys for the holders of the receiver's certificates, attended the hearing.
